EUROPE.

The Conflicts for Possession of the Eastern Parisian Forts.

Avron Deliberately Evacuated by the French Forces.

Repulse of the German Attack on Forts Rosny and Nogent.

Another Version of the Prussian "Apology" to Great Britain.

CHANGES IN THE BRITISH CABINET.

Indefinite Postponement of the Eastern Conference.

Disarming of the Spanish Republican National Guards.

THE WAR IN FRANCE

French Evacuation of Fort Avron Confirmed—They Remove their Guns—The French Withdrawing from Rosny Toward Paris.

BERLIN, Dec. 30.—The King has sent the following telegram to Queen AUGUSTA:

VERSAILLES, Dec. 29.—The bombardment of Fort Avron silenced the enemy's guns. The railway station at Noisy was shelled, and the French artillery at Bondy dislodged.

The Prussian loss was three men. The garrison of Fort Avron has fled into Paris.

ANOTHER DISPATCH.

DRESDEN, Dec. 30.—The Crown Prince of Saxony, in a dispatch to King JOHN, says when his troops entered Fort Avron they found the works deserted. The French had removed their guns to Noisy. The German batteries were then ordered to open fire on Noisy, Merlan, and Bondy. The French subsequently withdrew from the village of Rosny along the road to Paris.

STILL ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

VERSAILLES, Dec. 29, via LONDON, Dec. 30.—The Prussian Twelfth Corps has occupied Mont Avron, after one day's bombardment. The French, in their retreat, left behind their dead and many gun-carriages and rifles.

THE FRENCH VERSION.

BORDEAUX, Dec. 30.—A dispatch just received from Roche sur Yonne, 29th, reports the landing of a balloon from Paris at that place, with intelligence that the Prussians, on Wednesday, furiously attacked Forts Rosny, Nogent and Mont Avron. Some of their siege batteries were unmasked, and an attempt was made at a regular bombardment of the above-named positions, but the attack was repulsed with heavy loss to the enemy. The morale of Paris is excellent.

Operations on the Loire—A Sharp Conflict at Montoire—Bourbaki, Chauzy and Palladines—German Requisitions from Impoverished Inhabitants.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—A Prussian dispatch reports that Col. BOTTENSTEIN, commanding a detachment of six companies of foot, two squadrons of cavalry and two guns, was surrounded by the French near Montoire. After a desperate fight he cut his way out, losing only 100 of his command and taking 240 prisoners.

ANOTHER STATEMENT.

Gen. CHAUZY has sent a strong column to Montoire, driving the Prussians out of the place and taking many prisoners.

THE FRENCH FORCE.

Tours estimates the number of French troops at 750,000.

BOURBAKI AND CHAUZY.

BOURBAKI's command is charged especially with the duty of revictualling Paris, and has already on hand a vast amount of live stock and provisions for this purpose. At the proper moment the army will make a desperate effort to join CHAUZY's forces and reunite the Army of the Loire, which will then, with great energy, push on for Paris.

LILLE, Dec. 30.—Gens. BOURBAKI and CHAUZY have resumed the offensive.

WHY PALLADINES FAILED.

Gen. PALLADINES' reverse is now charged to the meddling of politicians, who persuaded GAMBETTA to interfere with his military operations.

PRUSSIAN EXACTIONS.

BORDEAUX, Dec. 30.—It appears that the Prussians committed excesses at Orleans and Blois because the inhabitants, who had been ruined, were not able to meet their requisitions. At Orleans the Prussians threaten to take away as hostages fifty prominent citizens unless 600,000 francs are paid for the maltreatment of a Prussian soldier.

The Prussian Answer to England Relating to the Sunken Ships—Bonds to the Owners, But No Reparation to Seamen—No Word of Apology—The Situation in the North and East.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The Prussian Government has replied to the representations of the English Cabinet that it will give indemnity bonds to the owners of the British vessels recently destroyed to impede the navigation of the Seine; but declines to compensate the sailors for the harsh treatment accorded them. [It will be perceived that the dispatch from private sources published yesterday does not strictly conform to the above statement from the regular agent of the Associated Press.]

HAVRE.

Gen. PELTINGEAS has arrived at Havre, from Bordeaux, to superintend the defense of the City. He was received enthusiastically by both troops and citizens.

INVESTMENT OF PERONNE.

The Germans invested the fortress of Péronne, in the Department of the Somme, on Wednesday, after some sharp fighting.

CAMBRAI AND MEZIERES.

The French have resolved to defend Cambrai at all hazards. There is a force of 2,000 Prussians at St. Quentin, twenty-five miles south of Cambrai. The force which lately occupied Arras has evacuated the place, but its precise movements are unknown.

LILLE, Dec. 30.—The Uhlans are scouring the country between Douai, Cambrai and Arras.

The French artillery fire at Mézières is very effective, and has, so far, prevented the besiegers from erecting batteries.

BORDEAUX, Dec. 30.—A dispatch from Rocroi, 29th, says the French artillery at Mézières prevents the Prussians from establishing their siege batteries.

RECRUITS.

CHERBOURG, Dec. 30.—Recruits are daily arriving here in large numbers, to be drilled and equipped before joining the army in the field.

GERMAN PRIZES.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—A French iron-clad is reported off Roche's Point.

Many German prizes are anchored at Salgow.

GERMAN RULE AT BESANCON.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—A dispatch from Besançon says that Gen. FRESKOW has issued an order confining the population to the right bank of the river Doubs.

PRUSSIAN COMMUNICATIONS THREATENED.

Gen. BOURBAKI's army is now marching to the eastward. The General has been charged with the mission to cut the Prussian lines of communication in all directions in that quarter.

BELFORT.

A dispatch from Belfort reports a successful sortie by the garrison, in which the Prussians were badly punished.

Terrible Suffering of Both Belligerents from Cold—Vigorous Military Preparations by Gambetta—Refugees Ordered to Return or to Be Treated as Deserters.

BORDEAUX, Dec. 30.—Accounts received here show that both Prussian and French troops have suffered terribly from the cold. Strong reinforcements have been sent forward to all points to replace the French soldiers thus incapacitated. Vast quantities of material calculated to increase the comfort of the troops have also been sent to the front.

GAMBETTA.

The presence here of M. GAMBETTA has given a great impetus to military preparations. Troops are rapidly going forward to the armies in the field. Many were sent hence today, who had just arrived from the south of France. Cannon of a new pattern, and small arms, as well as ammunition, have lately been sent to the front. At the earnest request of GAMBETTA, no public reception was tendered him on his arrival here. An effort was made to have him accept an ovation on New-Year's Day, but he firmly declined.

FRENCH REFUGEES.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The French Vice-Consul in the Island of Jersey, has ordered all French refugees to report to army headquarters for service in France immediately. All those who fail to comply with the order will be considered deserters.

GENERAL EUROPEAN NEWS.

The British Cabinet—Mr. Bright's Successor Appointed—Mr. Fortescue and the Marquis of Hartington—Death of an Architect—The Inundation at Rome.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—Mr. FORTESCUE has been appointed President of the Board of Trade, vacant by Mr. BRIGHT's resignation, and the Marquis of HARTINGTON Secretary for Ireland. Other Cabinet changes are contemplated. [Mr. FORTESCUE was Chief Secretary for Ireland, and the Marquis of HARTINGTON was Postmaster-General.]

DEATH OF AN AGED ARCHITECT.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—PHILIP HARDWICK, R. A., the architect, died today, aged seventy-eight years.

THE TIBER SUBSIDING.

ROME, Dec. 30.—The watars of the Tiber are subsiding.

The Eastern Conference Postponed—More of German Unity—The Treaty in Bavaria.

LONDON, Dec. 30—Evening.—The Conference of the Powers on the Eastern question has been indefinitely postponed, as France has refused to take part in it, and the absence of one of the signatories of the Treaty of Paris would render the meeting useless.

THE FEDERAL TREATIES.

BERLIN, Dec. 30.—The Federal treaties with Baden, Hesse and Würtemberg, have been ratified.

THE TREATY IN BAVARIA.

The Upper Chamber of the Bavarian Diet passed the treaty by nearly a unanimous vote.

The Republican National Guards of Madrid Refuse to Parade in Honor of the New King—They Are Disarmed—The Royal Squadron at Barcelona—Constitutional Guarantees.

MADRID, Dec. 27.—Several battalions of the National Guard, recruited in the republican quarters of Madrid, refuse to attend the review to be held on Sunday, in honor of the new King. Serious disturbances are apprehended.

DISARMING THEM.

MADRID, Dec. 30.—The disarmament of the Republican battalions of the National Guard has commenced. The city is tranquil.

THE ROYAL SQUADRON.

The squadron from Italy bearing the future King of Spain, was signalled yesterday off Barcelona, and will reach Cartagena today.

CONSTITUTIONAL GUARANTEES.

It is believed that the Government will withdraw its bill suspending the constitutional guarantees.

Gen. Prim's Wounds—The Spanish Cabinet—Prim to Resign to the New King—German Unity—Ministerial Changes in Roumania—Rome Inundated by the Tiber.

MADRID, Dec. 30.—Gen. PRIM is rapidly progressing toward recovery from his wounds. Seven of the eight balls imbedded in his shoulder have been extracted, and his condition is comfortable. He has, however, suffered the loss of two fingers.

THE CABINET.

Admiral TOPETE has assumed temporarily the functions of Gen. PRIM as Minister of Foreign Affairs and War, as well as the Presidency of the Council. Señor AYALA has been appointed Minister of the Colonies.

HORROR OF THE CORTES.

The Cortes have adopted a resolution expressive of horror at the attempt to assassinate Gen. PRIM, and passed a vote of confidence in the Government.

PRIM GOING INTO PRIVATE LIFE.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—Advices from Madrid state that Gen. PRIM has announced his determination to resign in person to King AMADEUS, and plead a desire to retire to private life.

GERMAN UNITY.

Dispatches from Stuttgardt and Darmstadt announce the ratification of the Federal treaties by the Chambers of Wurtemberg and Hesse.

FRANCE AND THE EASTERN CONFERENCE.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—Earl GRANVILLE has received an official dispatch from the French Government at Bordeaux, in which France declares its determination not to send a delegate to the Peace Conference to be held in London, unless the British Government shall first recognize the Republic. A dispatch of similar tone has been sent to each of the other Powers.

ICE AT COPENHAGEN.

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 30.—The harbor of Copenhagen is blockaded with ice.

BUCHAREST, Dec. 29.—A new Cabinet has been formed, with YON GHIKA, President.

INUNDATION OF ROME.

ROME, Dec. 30.—An overflow of the Tiber has flooded half the city, and occasioned a great amount of damage to property.

The Disaster to the British Iron-Clad "Captain"—Alterations to be Made as a Consequence—Disasters on the European Coast.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The investigation into the causes of the loss of the Captain has resulted in an order from the Admiralty for the following alterations in the British iron-clad navy: A reduction of the length and weight of masts; and the use of concrete for ballast, introduced into a cellular bottom.

SNOW IN GREAT BRITAIN.

The land lines between London and the cable are working badly, owing to a heavy fall of snow.

DISASTERS TO AMERICAN VESSELS.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 30.—The bark Thuenelde, Capt. VORSTATZ, from Philadelphia Nov. 15, for Bremen, is ashore at Langeroon. All the crew, except three sailors, were saved.

The "Artisan, from Philadelphia for Bremen," threw overboard 900 casks of petroleum during the voyage. [Probably the ship Artisan, Capt. SMITH, from New-York Nov. 19, for Rotterdam.]

The Affray at Shelbyville, Tenn.—A Son of a Candidate for Governor Mortally Wounded and Another Man Injured.

From the Nashville Banner, Dec. 24.

Our correspondent at Shelbyville sends us the following account of an affray at that place between GEORGE STAHLMAN, of Nashville, route agent of the Southern Express Company, and W. H. WISENER, Jr., son of WM. H. WISENER, late Radical candidate for Governor.

A serious affray occurred at the railroad depot last night. It seems that W. H. WISENER, Jr., went to the express office to get a package containing a deed for a client. He demanded of CYRUS WALLACE, acting agent, a receipt showing payment of expressage. WALLACE explained this to be unnecessary. WISENER left, but came back soon, and again demanded a receipt. WALLACE, believing him to be under the influence of liquor, made no reply. Mr. STAHLMAN, the route agent for Southern Express Company, proffered to explain. WISENER drew a pistol and fired twice upon him, wounding him in the left arm severely. As STAHLMAN escaped, WISENER turned and fired upon WALLACE twice. WALLACE drew a pistol and shot WISENER in the breast, causing a serious wound. WISENER may recover. WALLACE appeared before a Magistrate voluntarily, and, after an investigation, was discharged. No prosecutor appeared. The affair is regretted by all.

We learn from persons who arrived in the city yesterday from Shelbyville, some additional particulars in regard to the affair.

The cause assigned for the difficulty is as follows: Thursday, a package came by express to WISENER, upon which $600 was to be collected. WISENER wished a receipt for the money. The agent said they were not in the habit of giving receipts for C. O. D. packages—the package was a receipt in itself. This was before supper. After supper, WM. WISENER again came to the depot and wished a receipt. He had a pistol and showed it frequently, and was very noisy. Mr. WHITESIDE, the depot agent, prevailed upon him to put his pistol up. Mr. STAHLMAN, route agent of the Southern Express Company, says he was sitting at a desk writing while WISENER was in the room. He thought that WHITESIDE had taken the pistol from WISENER, and supposed the matter was settled. Suddenly heard a pistol cocked behind him, turned round and saw WISENER with a revolver leveled upon him. He (STAHLMAN) placed a large book he was writing upon in front of him, and told WISENER not to shoot; just then WISENER fired two or three shots, one of which struck him in the arm. STAHLMAN then escaped from the room. Thereupon WISENER turned upon CYRUS WALLACE, telegraph operator, who was also in the room, shooting at him several times without effect. WALLACE, meanwhile, drew a revolver and shot WISENER in the breast. WISENER ran out of the room, and fell about 150 yards from the depot, in the street leading to the square, where he was found and taken to his residence. It was found, upon examination, that the wound inflicted was almost of necessity fatal, but at 11 o'clock yesterday morning he was still alive.

Mr. STAHLMAN, who, unfortunately was severely wounded on this occasion, is a resident of Nashville and well-known as the route agent of the Southern Express Company. The ball from WISNER's pistol struck his arm above the elbow, shattering the bone and producing a wound which may render amputation necessary. Dr. BUIST, of Nashville, and Capt. THATCHER, agent of the Adams and Southern Express Companies here, left on the train for Shelbyville last evening to look after the case.

Narrow Escape of Two Men at Niagara Falls.

From the Buffalo Courier, Dec. 27.

A report was current in the city, Monday, that two men had been carried over Niagara Falls, Sunday evening. On investigation, we learn that such a tragedy was actually threatened, but that the actors in it were fortunately able to draw out a little short of the closing scene. The facts, as we hear them, are as follows: On Sunday afternoon two young men, sons of JOSEPH P. SMITH, of Grand Island, undertook to cross the river in a boat, with the intention of making a visit near La Salle. The ice ran pretty thickly in the stream, and the boat was got to the mainland with so much difficulty that the young men concluded to take advantage of the first ice, and try to get back again. In this endeavor, however, they were not fortunate. The ice defied their best efforts to reach the shore, and gradually they were carried down toward the rapids. Their cries brought a number of people to the shore, and attempts were made to reach them with a boat, but in vain. At last, after about five hours of hard work, they abandoned the boat and took to the ice, reaching the shore in an exhausted condition. They had drifted down as far as Schloaher, at which point they made a landing; and their escape, as any one acquainted with the locality must know, was a very narrow one.

Excitement in a Baltimore Theatre—Three Girls Thrown from a Pedestal.

From the Baltimore Sun, Dec. 28.

Last night, previous to the close of the performance at the Front-street Theatre, there was, for the time, considerable excitement. In the pantomime burlesque entitled "Robinson Crusoe," which is the last piece upon the bills, there is a transformation scene, in which three girls, Miss SALLIE CHAPMAN, Miss SALLIE APT and Miss BOGART, are raised upon a pedestal, which, when about eight feet from the stage, turned to one side and threw the girls backward upon the stage. Of course, a scene of excitement ensued, it being apprehended that they were seriously injured, and a report at once gained circulation that one of the number had one of her legs broken in two places. The curtain was quickly dropped, but was soon after raised and the tableau completed; only one of the occupants of the pedestal reappeared. It was soon ascertained that Misses APT and BOGART were not injured to any serious extent, but Miss CHAPMAN did not fare so well, as she, in falling, struck her back against a portion of the pedestal, and injured herself to such an extent that it was necessary to call in a physician. Dr. STEIN was summoned, and soon succeeded in reviving Miss CHAPMAN, who had fainted from the effects of her injuries and the excitement. She was subsequently conveyed in a carriage to her boarding-house.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Congressman THOMAS L. JONES, of Kentucky, has written home that he will accept the Democratic nomination for Governor, if it is offered him by the State Convention.

The Trenton (N. J.) Gazette says that Hon. DUDLEY S. GREGORY, of Jersey City, will make a strong and worthy candidate for United States Senator, he being among the most able, reputable and influential Republicans of this State.

The Mississippi Legislature reassembles on Tuesday, Jan. 3. The Speaker of the House has died during the recess.

GENERAL TELEGRAMS.

CUBA.

Sacking of a Village Almost under Spanish Guns—Shooting Scenes after the Fight—The Hornet—Probable Landing of Her Expedition.

HAVANA, Dec. 29.—Advices from Santiago de Cuba, dated 23d inst., state that on the 18th 300 insurgents, including forty negroes, armed with cutlasses, sacked and burnt Cosapa, a fishing village distant five miles from that city, opposite the Morro fortress, at the mouth of the harbor. They forced a small detachment of defenders to retreat, and killed nine persons, including two women. They decamped after taking everything from the village. The Morro fired twice at the party, but ineffectually. As there were no boats to carry troops over, those which were sent to intercept the rebels arrived too late. On entering the village they found the corpses of the victims, partly baked and in a horrible condition.

CESPEDES.

The rebel President CESPEDES was in the jurisdiction of Santiago.

THE HORNET.

A brig had arrived at Santiago, bringing the report that the filibuster steamer Hornet passed Inagua on the 16th inst., followed three hours later by a British steamer.

HER EXPEDITION.

It is now rumored here (Havana) that the Hornet has entered the Bay of Nipe and landed her expedition.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

Robbery of a Stage Station and Murder of Four Occupants—The Dell-Fisher Homicide in Sacramento.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—CHARLES REED, station keeper, JAMES LITTLE, stage driver, and — TOURNEY, a cook, were murdered on Christmas Eve at the Mission Camp Stage Station, near Tucson, Arizona, and Miss REED was shot, but not killed, by a party of Sonorians, who plundered the place, murdered a teamster on the road, and escaped over the border into Mexico. ....CHARLES DELL, who shot and killed CHARLES F. FISHER in Sacramento two weeks ago, while FISHER was beating him over the head with a heavy cane, for paying attention to his (FISHER's) daughter, has been discharged from custody, on the ground that the homicide was an act justifiable in self defense.

FIRE AND FALL OF A BRIDGE.

Twenty Persons Precipitated into the Alleghany River at Pittsburg—Four Fatally and Several Seriously Injured.

PITTSBURG, Penn., Dec. 30.—The Marshall House, situated at the west end of the wire bridge over the Alleghany River in Franklin, Penn., took fire at 11 o'clock this morning. The flames communicated to the bridge, and the cables soon becoming red hot, parted from their anchorage, precipitating the bridge structure into the river. About twenty persons were on the bridge at the time. WILLIAM NEILL, farmer, MCINTYRE, the toll-keeper, and his wife and daughter, who were engaged in removing furniture on the bridge, were fatally injured. MARY and GEORGE MCINTYRE, JOHN and ALEX. MCCARTNEY, JOHN HENRY, and two unknown persons, were seriously injured. WILFRIED GILGORE, freight agent of the Alleghany Valley Railroad, is supposed to be buried in the ruins, as he was known to be on the bridge. The weather was intensely cold, and the river frozen over to the second pier on each side, and great difficulty was experienced in reaching the sufferers with skiffs. A boy named JOHNSON, aged thirteen years, jumped from the centre of the bridge and swam ashore through the slushy ice. The bridge was newly erected, at a cost of $36,000, and the Marshall House at a cost of $5,000; no insurance on either.

THE EAST.

A Soldiers' Monument on Boston Common—Robbery by a Servant-Man—A Lumber Schooner Ashore—Fate of the Crew Unknown.

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 30.—The Boston City Council has appropriated $75,000 for the erection of a soldiers' monument on the Common.... FREDERICK MAYNARD, a young Englishman, is under arrest, charged with stealing $2,000 worth of diamonds from a family in Mount Vernon-street, where he was employed as a domestic. ....An unknown lumber-laden schooner, of from 150 to 200 tons burden, went ashore, yesterday, on Barnstable Bar, beat over, and drifted on Yarmouth Flats. Assistance has gone to her, but nothing is yet known regarding the fate of the crew.

The Ames Plow Company—What Led to the Failure—A Suggestion—Wreck of a Brig—The Mate Drowned—The Schooner on Yarmouth Flats.

BOSTON, Dec. 30.—The Traveller in speaking of the failure of the Ames Plow Company says: "The principal creditors are of the opinion that with the ample resources and large annual income of the Ames Plow Company and OLIVER AMES & SONS, if the liquidation is placed in their hands instead of being thrown in the hands of assignees, the entire indebtedness can be paid within eighteen months. Mr. OAKES AMES has been carrying for the past two years, nearly $2,000,000 of Union Pacific bonds, and has almost entirely sustained its credit, but the want of confidence in its management, and the consequent depression of its securities in the market, was too much for him."....The British brig Alcorado, Capt. HALEY, from Windsor, N. S., went ashore at Orleans, Cape Cod, on Thursday. Mr. BARRETT, the mate, was lost, but the others of the crew were saved....The unknown schooner ashore on Yarmouth Flats, was of and from St. John, N. B., for Fall River. All hands were saved.

Perils of the Fisheries—The Wrecked and Drowned of the Gloucester Fishermen Last Year.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Dec. 30.—Of the fleet of Gloucester fishermen, thirteen vessels and ninety-seven lives were lost the present year, against sixteen vessels and sixty-seven lives the previous year. Average tonnage of vessels lost in 1870, 796 14-100; aggregate value, $79,700; insurance, $63,470. Of these vessels, four were lost in 1870, two in the George's fishery, two in the Bank fishery, two in the Bay of St. Lawrence mackerel fishery, one in the shore mackerel fishery, two in the coasting trade, and two in the herring fishery. Of the ninety-seven men lost, twenty-six were married, leaving twenty-six widows and forty-five children.

CONTENTS OF A VAULT.

Odds and Ends in a Treasury Vault in Washington, and Missing from it Also

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—A schedule of the special deposits remaining in the vault of the United States Treasury has been prepared under the direction of the Chief Clerk of the Treasury. Among them is one box, deposited May 10, 1849, by the United States Patent Office, on account of the Patent Office containing one bottle of otto of roses; one bottle containing pearls; one bottle containg diamonds; one gold plate inside gold lining of snuff-box; one paper containing a gold ornament and a silk tassel belonging to a necklace; one box containing thirteen diamonds and four pearls; two lumps of gold; an envelope deposited Aug. 6, 1870, by the Secretary of the Treasury, in trust for the Alaska Commercial Company, containing 320 bonds, amounting to $65,000; one box deposited by the Secretary of the Treasury in June, 1868, containing the original Cyrus W. Field medal, in a jeweled case, struck at the United States Mint, Philadelphia; two Bank of England notes, one for £5, the other for £10, (these notes were purchased by Secretary CHASE, to be used as samples in the National Currency Bureau of the Treasury Department, and are to be held until an order is received from the Secretary authorizing their sale;) one package deposited in April, 1855, on account of the United States, being amount received from CORCORAN and RIGGS in the case of the United States vs. GARDNER, containing bonds to the amount of $61,000. GARDNER committed suicide in jail after his conviction for the Mexican mining frauds. This package was marked on the wrapper $97,376.33. An accompanying memoranda was found of Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad bonds for $19,000, and on this entry was written "sold." A check on the Bank of Washington—this check was missing. One envelope, containing counterfeit Treasury and bank notes, passed by and found in the possession of JOHN B. HENDERSON. A box, said to contain Confederate and Louisiana State Bonds, was also passed without examination. One package, containing one counterfeit plate for the back of a ten-dollar note. There are also various packages of bonds, counterfeit coin, Confederate currency, &c.

THE WEST.

The Squatters on the Miami Reservation—Postponement of their Removal—The Fire at Fort Smith—Bridge Burned.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 30.—A dispatch from Fort Leavenworth says: "At the request of Gen. POPE, the Secretary of War has postponed the removal of the settlers from the Miami Indian Reservation in Kansas until the weather is more favorable, but the troops have been ordered to protect the Indians against depredations by the whites. Another order has been received from Washington directing that a thorough investigation be made into the destruction by fire of the Government buildings at Fort Smith, and leaving discretionary with Gen. POPE the continuance of the post and the quarters of the troops at Little Rock or Fort Gibson."

TOLEDO, Ohio, Dec. 30.—The bridge on the Toledo, Wabash and Western Railroad at Defiance, Ohio, was destroyed by fire this morning.

Castigating a "Local"—A Female Necromancer Resorts to the Horsewhip.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 30.—A woman, who is recognized as a fortune-teller, called at the office of the Leader at noon today, and sought an interview with the local editor. This was granted, and she demanded a full retraction of an article that appeared in the Leader yesterday morning reflecting on her manner of doing business. The editor, who was the author of the article, refused to retract, and the woman immediately produced a horsewhip, and applied it with energy, but with little effect, to the head and shoulders of the offender. The local staff, however, coming to the assistance of their chief, enabled him to eject his assailant from the office, and to resume his chair a victor.

A Racer and Nine Stage Horses Burned—$350,000 Damage by a Fire in Chicago Yesterday.

HELENA, Montana Territory, Dec. 30.—Fish Creek, a stage station seventy-five miles south of this place, was burned last night. Nine horses, including the race-horse Missouri Boon, thirty tons of hay and four set of harness were destroyed.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 30.—A fire broke out this morning in a long frame block, reaching from No. 538 to No. 556 Clark-street, and destroyed property valued at about $350,000, insured for $180,000. There were some forty tenants in the building, whose losses range from $100 to $1,000. The flouring-mill of LEWIS & CO., Atkinson, Ill., with the elevator of J. ASHLEY, were burned, incurring a loss of $20,000.

Collision on the Mississippi—A Steamboat Cut Down to the Water's Edge.

NEW-ORLEANS, Dec. 30.—The steam-boat John Keill, hence for St. Louis, was run into last night by a tug-boat having a bark in tow, and was seriously damaged. The bark struck the John Keill just abaft the boilers, cutting her clean down to the water line, and crushing into the hull with such force as to demolish three state-rooms and to carry the chimneys overboard. No person was killed, but one deck passenger was severely injured.

The Weather on the Summit of Mount Washington Clear.

SUMMIT MOUNT WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—At 7 P. M. the barometer stood 23.344, the change since last report being plus .307; and the thermometer stood 8° above zero. Relative humidity, .601. Wind south-west. Velocity of wind, 58 miles per hour. Weather clear.

A New Police Precinct.

The Board of Police yesterday passed resolutions constituting the building in Mulberry-street, known as the Central Department, the Thirty-fifth Precinct, and assigning to it a captain, two sergeants, and a number of patrolmen, yet to be named. Sergeant JAMES IRVING, now Chief of the Detective Force, will be made Captain of the Precinct, and continue in charge of the detectives, but it is not probable that any sergeants or patrolmen except the detectives will be assigned to it.

WASHINGTON.

No New-Year's Reception, on Account of the Death of Mrs. Belknap—The Army Examining Board—Unavoidable Injustice to Certain Officers—The Patent Office—Surratt Crowded Out of the City.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—In consequence of the death of Mrs. BELKNAP, the programme for the official reception by the President on Monday has been withdrawn. The several Cabinet Ministers have also given notice that there will be no receptions at their respective residences. This will serve to materially check the customary festivities of New-Year's Day. The action of the President is criticised in some quarters; but as his action is bound to be criticised in any event, a majority of thoughtful people will be glad to see in this a recognition of an event which brings great grief to a member of his official family, and which could not go unrecognized without an imputation of heartlessness and indifference. The funeral of Mrs. BELKNAP will take place on Sunday at 2 o'clock P. M. The pall-bearers selected are Secretary Fish, Secretary Robeson, Gen. Sherman, Gen. Ricketts, Judge Miller, United States Supreme Court; C. P. Marsh, Esq., of New-York; Gen. Horace Porter, Commodore Alden, Gen. Michler and W. S. Huntington, Esq.

THE ARMY EXAMINATIONS.

The Army Examining Board closes its labors to-morrow and submits its report. In the cases of several officers who are prevented from appearing before the Board on account of the limitation by law of the time of its sitting, injustice will unavoidably be done. There are, for example, several instances where officers stationed at distant posts have charges preferred against them. These officers have been summoned before the Board, and some of them are on their way here, but will be unable to arrive in time to answer to the charges because of the lateness of their summons and the distance to be traveled. And even if they were here to-morrow, their cases could not be taken up. These officers will go upon the supernumerary list and be mustered out; whereas, if the Board had time to hear their defense, they might acquit themselves. They will, it is true, receive honorable discharges as compensation for the inability of granting a trial. Still, if the charges had not been preferred at all, or if a trial were permitted, in some of these cases discharges might not have been received at all. The preference of charges against officers which it was known could not be examined for want of time, creates a suspicion that they were preferred either through personal malice, or by friends of officers nearer at hand, to lessen the chances of the latter for retirement. At any rate, a man accused is entitled to a hearing, and if the Limitation law has worked injustice of this kind, it would seem that Congress should take cognizance and provide a remedy. The Senate, just before adjournment, passed a joint resolution extending the time when the act reorganizing the army shall take effect, from Jan. 1, 1871, to July 1. The House Military Committee, after considering the matter, decided adversely on the proposition. The Secretary of War faithfully presented the necessity of the case, but stated, at the same time, that it would cost $1,000,000.

THE CLERK OF THE INTERIOR DEPARTMENT.

The Department of the Interior must certainly be awarded the palm for industrious intentions. It seems that the understanding before the Secretary went away was that the granting of half holidays during the week to the clerks in that Department should be uniform with the action of the other Government Departments. To all complaints of exceptional treatment in this respect, Judge OTTO, the Assistant Secretary, has replied that only one or two of the other Departments were closed at noon. This morning, however, it was proved to him, by letters from their respective chief clerks, that, with the exception of the State Department, all the others were closed at noon. Verbal notice was thererore sent round to the heads of bureaus that they might give their clerks the whole day to-morrow, and dismiss them at noon today, if they chose. They chose to keep to work this afternoon, but have yielded to the desire for a holiday to-morrow. And so the Department is closed till next Tuesday.

THE PATENT OFFICE.

It was indicated in these dispatches some weeks ago that Gen. M. D. LEGGETT, of Zanesville, Ohio, would probably be Commissioner of Patents. The nomination may be sent to the Senate next week. Gen. LEGGETT is a lawyer, but has had some years of experience in mechanical pursuits, and is spoken of everywhere as an excellent selection for the office, whose management under Col. FISHER was so superior.

EXIT SURRATT.

SURRATT, having been denied Lincoln Hall and the Masonic Temple for his lecture, obtained Odd-fellows' Hall, and advertised to speak there to-night. But the action of the agent who let it to him was set aside by the Building Committee, and the doors were ordered not to be opened. A Catholic priest here is said to have written a letter to SURRATT, disuading him from lecturing here at all. He came to the city this afternoon, however, and engaged Caruna Hall, an obscure room on the corner of C and Eleventh streets, and word passed quickly round that the lecture would be given there. The hall was lighted, and one hundred to one hundred and fifty people came together. After waiting for some time the lecturer did not make his appearance, and the lights were put out, and the audience dispersed. So Washington is not likely to hear the begging tale of shame after all.

Dispatch to the Associated Press.

SAN DOMINGO AND THE UNITED STATES.

A commercial house in New-York writes to a prominent Senator: "We are advised by our agents, as well as our Dominican correspondents, that everything is peaceful and quiet, and that the entire community with whom they are brought in contact are unanimously in favor of, and anxiously awaiting, annexation. The trade between that island and New-York is continually increasing, and by the last trip of the steamer Tybee there were received, for the first time, 1,600 cerroons of tobacco from Samana."

ICE IN THE POTOMAC.

The ice in the Potomac is from five to seven inches thick and navigation is wholly suspended, the mail steamers, despite their iron prows, being entirely unable to break their way through. The ferry steamers have been obliged to lay up, and travel hence southward is by way of the Orange and Alexandria Railroad.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT

A child, aged two months, was burned to death yesterday, the mother having locked it up at her home, a frame tenement, while she visited another part of the city. On her return, the woman found that the house had been destroyed by fire during her

NOTES FROM THE PEOPLE.

San Domingo and President Grant—A Series of Astounding Misstatements.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

An article relating to San Domingo in yesterday's World, copied from the Cincinnati Commercial, is so full of pretended statements of fact, which are entirely unfounded, that it deserves some little attention. Perhaps it would be well at the outset to state that such a tissue of falsehoods seldom been seen in print.

In the first place, there is grave doubt as to the statement being true that any merchant from San Domingo has been in Cincinnati at all. There are no first-class merchants in the whole island. In Puerto Plata there are not a half dozen American traders or shop-keepers, and these are mostly colored men, who now and then ship a few tons of logwood, or a half dozen cerons of tobacco per year. There is but one large American mercantile house there. The remainder are houses of German agents, sent out from Hamburg and Bremen; and a few are connected with St. Thomas houses. The same can be truly said of San Domingo City.

The statement that the majority of the people favor annexation is true. More than that—fully nine-tenths earnestly desire it. The "merchants of San Domingo" are as desirous of annexation as they think they can afford to be. They are not generally favorable to annexation, their sympathies, feelings and business ties being exclusively confined to their native land, Germany. Of course they will make all sorts of charges against BAEZ and his brother officials, and these charges are all the stock upon which the opponents of annexation base their malignant diatribes against President GRANT and Gen. BABCOCK.

One statement made in the second paragraph of the article shows that it must have been patched up by some person who never stopped in San Domingo twenty-four hours. It speaks of President BAEZ, and his "brother BUENAVENTURA." This alone explodes the whole story. President BAEZ's name is BUENAVENTURA BAEZ, and his brother's name is DAMIAN BAEZ! The latter is Governor of the Department of San Domingo.

Thirdly—The story of this "merchant of San Domingo" who does not know the President's name, that there are lots of land on the Bay of Samana staked off, with boards containing the names of GRANT, BABCOCK, BAEZ, and others, is simply a wholesale falsehood. They do not stake off land in that way on the island, and there is not a board stake with a man's name on it in the whole territory of Dominica. This portion of the story is simply ridiculous.

Fourthly—A year ago last October, President BAEZ desired to go to Azua, then the headquarters of the army, which was awaiting and subsequently defeated CABRAL and his rebels there. The commander of the gunboat then at San Domingo, as an act of courtesy, kindly conveyed the President and a few of his staff to that place and returned with them. The statement that junketing parties, comprising BAEZ and his officers, have frequently been taken on excursions by American gun-boats, is simply another pure fabrication.

Now, the above is enough to show of what flimsy stuff is composed the charges of corruption and wholesale grants to GRANT. There is not a shadow of truth in them—they are false from beginning to end—as the writer knows from over a year's residence there, since October, 1869. The island has everything in the way of natural products, in climate, and as a spot of inestimable value for harbors for our navy and mercantile marine, to make it the greatest acquisition ever conceived by the American mind.

MONROE.

NEW-YORK, Friday, Dec. 30, 1870.

The Gift and Testimonial Humbug.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Allow a hard-working official to have a word in your columns. Our Tammany masters are making each other costly presents, but the funds for these are drawn mostly from the pockets of us, their subordinates. Every day some flunkey or parasite, who wishes to keep his place, or get a better one, starts a subscription paper among the offices, for a testimonial, and woe betide the man who hesitates to sign it. The dishonest ones can afford it. The honest one must suffer. This fiendish robbery of poor clerks has destroyed the New-Year's pleasure of many a household. Our wives and little ones are made to suffer, in order that thieves and conspirators and their families may be gratified by more plunder. This disgraceful practice of receiving testimonials is spreading and doing devil's work among our people.

Please publish this cry of complaint, and let the people hear it. I beg you also to publish in your columns, as a roll of infamy, the name of every public official who accepts a testimonial.

An Inscription for the Tweed Statue.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

About the only objection to your proposed inscription is its length. Its appropriateness cannot be gainsaid. Considering the civic worth and high-toned morality the statue is designed to commemorate, I would suggest the adoption of the words of a King of the olden time—one David—whose works have been preserved under the title of "Psalms." In his forty-ninth psalm, eighteenth verse, are the apt words for the inscription.

As the Book may not chance to adorn the libraries of the Tweed admirers, I subjoin the words, as in the commonly-received translation: "Men will praise thee when thou doest well to thyself." TWEEDLEDUM.

Hale's Man Trap.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

The testimony already taken in the matter of the fallen building on West Thirty-fifth-street shows that it was erected in accordance with the Building law; that the materials used were of good quality, and that the work was executed in a good and workman-like manner.

Now, as the law does not control the style or shape of a building, and as it is not the business of a mason or carpenter to design a structure, it is easy to perceive where the cause of the disaster originated.

Had the owner employed a competent architect, and had taken his advice, the whole difficulty would have been avoided, as he (the architect) would have refused to plan or superintend the erection of such a building.

This "penny-wise and pound-foolish" policy of owners has caused the loss of scores of lives and of millions of property in our City within a few years, and the guilty parties should be held responsible. J.

NEW-YORK, Thursday, Dec. 29, 1870.

REV. SABINE AND PUBLIC OPINION

The Actor and the Pharisee.

From the Commercial Advertiser, Dec. 30.

The recent intolerant and uncharitable course of Rev. W. T. SABINE, in refusing to perform the Christian rites of burial over the remains of the venerable and well-respected GEO. HOLLAND, establishes one fact which no good Christian, man or woman, can deny—that he is quite unfit to occupy the position he now holds—that of a Christian minister and teacher of the Gospel. For more than forty years the genial kind-hearted old man, HOLLAND, delighted and amused his fellow-men by his sparkling, innocent wit and his rich fund of humor; commanding at the same time, by his correct course of life, the esteem of all with whom he came in contact. His efforts all through life tended to good—absolute good—in making men feel better and kindlier toward each other. Our minister, on the other hand, although only a stripping in years, has through his short course of life nursed only the most intolerant principles associated with insolence, bigotry and ignorance. The niche in Westminster's Cathedral aisle filled by an actor attests Protestant England's appreciation of this branch of art. The late offer of consecrated ground for the remains of the late CHARLES DICKENS, himself an actor, and the eulogy pronounced over his remains by Dean STANLEY, should have been sufficient as a precedent for this meek and lowly young man. His silly allusion to "the church around the corner" displays the true calibre of the Pharisee. A member of his parish, when asked why such a person was placed in charge, replied that he belonged to a very respectable family, and his father had a good deal of influence. It is about time that these influences were set aside. A congregation composed of intelligent, Christian people, cannot afford to permit this man to linger about their altar.

The Actor and the Clergyman.

From the Newark Daily Journal.

The day after the death of GEORGE HOLLAND, the venerable Wallacklan actor, JOE JEFFERSON, the dead man's time-honored friend, went to an Episcopal clergyman, Rev. W. T. SABINE, rector of the Church of the Atonement, and asked him to perform the burial service. Mr. JEFFERSON did not make himself known, but said he had been requested to apply to Mr. SABINE, by a lady related to deceased, she being a member of Mr. SABINE's congregation. The clergyman at first assented readily, but later, on learning that GEORGE HOLLAND had been a play-actor, peremptorily declined, and suggested that Mr. JEFFERSON go "next door to the "little church round the corner," Rev. Dr. HOUGHTON's Church of the Transfiguration. Yesterday the clerical declined was interviewed by a reporter. He said it was not a rule of the Episcopal Church for its clergy not to bury actors, but he had a "distaste for officiating at such a funeral, and did not care to be mixed up in it." Now there is abundant proof to show that off the stage poor GEORGE HOLLAND led a remarkably exemplary life, particularly for one whose calling exposed him to numerous temptations, and the spectacle of this minister of Christ's Gospel refusing over the bier to administer funeral rites, solely because deceased was a play-actor, is a sorry one indeed for that enlightened Christianity which has been the boast of clergymen of the Episcopal order.

From the Newark Daily Advertiser.

The genial GEORGE HOLLAND, the veteran actor who so delighted old New-York playgoers, with difficulty finds Christian burial. Mr. JEFFERSON, of Rip Van Winkle fame, applied to Rev. W. T. SABINE, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Atonement, on Madison-avenue, New-York, to secure his services for that purpose, but as soon as this exacting clergyman found what manner of man it was that was to be buried, he declined the duty and referred the applicant to the "little church around the corner," meaning the Church of the Transfiguration, where they might "do it," the funeral service, for him. Mr JEFFERSON then replied, "All honor to that little church," and Rev. Dr. HOUGHTON, the rector thereof, afterward did officiate at the funeral in his own church.

Mr. SABINE now endeavors to apologise for his conduct in saying that he has always warned his little flock against the theatre, and that to be consistent, he ought not to permit his own church to be used for the burial of an actor.

The logic of this is, that if Mr. SABINE has conscientious scruples on this subject, so may any other clergyman, and the actor, quite irrespective of his personal character, may be pitched into the Potter's field like a dog. Dr. HOUGHTON did not take that view of the matter. We wonder which of these gentlemen feel most comfortable now in thinking over the affair!

From the New-Haven Palladium.

Mr. SABINE has, we fear, mistaken his profession. It ought to be part of his business to teach charity, but he seems not to have learned how to practice it himself. We should like to know his opinion of the manner in which the Inquisition used to treat the bodies of dead heretics. We have hardly a doubt he condemns it severely.

CURRENT NOTES.

The Chicago Police have made 21,996 arrests this year.

Maine has built very few vessels during the year—only 15,856 tons in the aggregate of all classes.

Philadelphia is very proud of its new paid Fire Department, but fears the salaries are too small.

America is a great country. Portland, Oregon, is claiming that it is about to be made railroad centre.

The Auburn News advertises for several experienced female compositors, and promises such the highest prices.

Gen. J. E. SLAUGHTER, who was BRAGG's first Chief of Staff, has returned to Mobile, Ala., to live, after passing three years in Mexico.

A negro woman who died in Baltimore on Tuesday night is said to have been one hundred and twenty-one years seven months and twenty-two days old.

A Mississippi Judge announced that he would not hold the December Term of his Court, as he had important private business to attend to.

Somebody asserts that an Indiana shoemaker received, recently, an order for "a pair of esq. Toad Shooze," but this is too good to be true.

The Lynchburg Virginian says that the people of Richmond have the sympathy of every one in the South. Had the Virginian said of every one in the country, it would not have gone beyond the truth.

The Augusta Journal publishes a list of about forty veteran stage-drivers still living in Maine. The oldest is eighty-one years old. Many of them are now connected with railroads or expresses.

A lady in Bath, Me., has just had returned to her by the Post-office Department a letter which she mailed eight years and six months ago. It was covered with post-marks, but it is difficult to trace out its journeyings.

The ladies of an Episcopal church in Montreal have determined to banish wine from their sideboards on New-Year's Day, and a number of the young men of the same church have pledged themselves to abstain from wine-drinking on that day.

GILL VALENTINE, who has been City Auditor of Worcester, Mass., for sixteen years, declines re-election. In the first year of his service he allowed bills amounting to $55,479; during the present year, $1,200,000.

Commissioners appointed by the Governor of Connecticut are to report to the next Legislature a new Militia law, and there is to be held soon in New-Haven, a meeting of the representatives of the various military bodies in the State, for consultation with the Commissioners.

Papers throughout the Eastern States are complaining of the drouth, and the Norwich Advertiser explains that the difference between last Winter and this is, that there was plenty of water then but no cold weather to freeze it, and now there is plenty of cold weather but no water for it to freeze.

Hon. DAVID A. WELLS has written to Cincinnati that he will be unable to speak there as early as he desired, as his New-York work will require more time than he anticipated. He adds that he is anxious to fulfill his promise as soon as possible, as he "has much that is new to lay before the country."

The clipper-ships Frolic and Glory of the Seas left San Francisco on the same day, one for Liverpool and the other for Cork, were in each other's company for six weeks, then separated, and reached their destinations on the same day, the Frolic arriving but six hours before her competitor.

Capt. TRAVERS, of Rochester, has made a wager of $25 that he will, at the distance of thirty-six feet, with a pistol, shoot from the top of a wine-bottle a cork on which is placed a bullet, dropping the bullet into the bottle and not breaking the bottle. He has twelve shots, and engages to perform the feat four times.

A dwelling-house in Otsego, Mich., was burned on Christmas Eve and three children perished in the flames. The father succeeded in saving his wife and two of his children, and was badly burned in trying to save the rest. Then he was badly frozen in riding a mile scantily clad to get help, and he has since been insane most of the time. It is thought he will die.

The Montreal correspondent of the Toronto Globe reiterates the statement that Sir JOHN ROSS is coming out to negotiate with our Government respecting the fishery question. The Canadian Government organs at Ottawa deny it. This correspondent says that he will first visit his business partners in New-York, then proceed to Ottawa, and thence to Washington.

The watchman in a Massachusetts tannery who died recently had been accustomed to take with him a little dog for companionship. After the death of his master the dog appeared sick and quite dull for a few days, even refusing to eat; but he recovered, and now makes his visits nightly to the tannery. In the evening he starts off promptly at the usual hour, and is quite as regular in his return in the morning, notifying the household by a slight bark of his arrival home.

California, the San Francisco Alta insists, is better fitted for producing wine, silk, fruits, nuts, olive-oil, and other articles of the semi-tropical class, than wheat. The people, it says, have learned by experience, and might have known by reasoning, without experience, that the production of wheat for exportation not only cannot enrich their State, but, as conducted at present, cannot be permanent. The soil is being exhausted for the sake of a small and brief profit.

A bill was filed in the Circuit Court, Chicago, on Wednesday, by SUSAN W. HARRIS, of New-York, against THOMAS S. DOBBINS and others, to set aside the sale of real estate made in 1864 by the executor of STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS, and for other relief. The complainant alleges that she is the holder of notes made by Mr. DOUGLAS in his life-time, and assigned to her to secure a certain now amount, at interest, to exceed $20,000; and that there was a fraudulent sale of the property.

The Macon (Ga.) Telegraph is apparently mistaken in regard to Rev. RUFUS W. SPENCFIELD, who died suddenly, in Philadelphia, a short time ago. The Portland (Me.) Advertiser speaks of him as well known there, he having been for many years a resident of Gorham; and it says that he had been making collections for a college in Missouri—not in Macon, as previously stated.

OBITUARY.

Carl Anschuetz, the Well-Known Musical Director.

CARL ANSCHUETZ, the well-known musical director, who has long been identified with numerous operatic and musical enterprises in New-York and other localities in this country, died yesterday morning, after a long and painful disease. He was born in 1813 in Coblence, and was consequently fifty-seven years of age at the time of his death. He was a pupil of his father, JOSEPH ANDREAS, a Government official at Coblence, and of F. SCHNEIDER, an eminent composer in Dessau. He was the composer of several musical works; among others a composition entitled "The Mass," and in musical circles he was considered an authority on musical matters. He first made his appearance in this country in 1857 with Impresario ULLMANN, and was subsequently identified with the operatic undertakings of GRAU, MARETZEK, GROVER, and with the Patti-Ullmann and Bateman concert troupes. Of late years he has been engaged as the director of Philharmonic concerts, and before his health began to fail founded and conducted a conservatorium of music. The people of nearly every large city of the United States have seen ANSCHUTZ acting as a director of one or the other operatic troupes, and in musical circles, as well as among a vast number of private and professional friends and acquaintances his decease will be sincerely regretted.

A DOUBTFUL CASE.

A Father Charged with Outrageous Conduct—Two Sides to the Story.

MARY WHELAN and MARY ANN DELANY, both aged about twelve years, were yesterday brought up before Judge CARDOZO, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, and a motion made for their discharge from the House of the Good Shepherd. As a ground for their discharge, it was claimed by their counsel, Mr. JAMES D. MCCLELLAND, that they were committed without any sworn complaint, on a charge of vagrancy. In opposition to the motion to discharge, it was stated by Mr. FELLOWS, representing the People, that about three weeks since JOHN DELANY, the father of one of the girls, and adopted father of the other, was arraigned before Justice SHANDLEY on complaint of his wife that he had taken improper liberties with the little girls. Justice SHANDLEY dismissed the complaint against the father, but consigned the girls to the House of the Good Shepherd. He claimed that the father was permitted to go free only because the mother refused to press the charge, and that it would be an outrage to now take these children from those whose care and training might be relied upon as for the children's best interests, and recommit them to the care of a father to whom such a repulsive and abominable charge seemed reasonably attributable.

Mr. MCCLELLAND, while assuring the Court that he would be equally unwilling, with the Attorney for the People, to take the children from where they were well cared for in every way, and place them back in charge of a father of the character attributed to this man, yet, he said, after careful inquiry among the neighbors of DELANY, he had found him to bear the character of an honest, upright and well-behaved man, against whose moral character no suspicion had ever previously existed. There was no pretense, even on the part of the People, that any crime had been attempted by him in regard to the children, and so far as he had been able to learn, the father and mother had quarreled the night before the complaint was made, and the wife, out of revenge, had entered the complaint, of which she had since repented. The children themselves denied the charge made against their father, and this, together with the refusal of the mother to prosecute, and the discharge of the father by Judge SHANDLEY, seemed to make it plain that the charge was unfounded. There was no pretense, he continued, that the parents were not pecuniarily able to provide for them, and as the commitment was clearly irregular, they ought to be discharged.

Judge CARDOZO said, that with such a suspicion hanging over the father, he could not feel justified in taking the children from those in whose care they now are, and placing them again in charge of their father. He would therefore direct a reference to take testimony as to the character of the father before recommitting the children to his care.

To this counsel for the children and counsel for the People readily assented, and the final disposition of the case was postponed until the coming week.

The Bowery Gasline Fire.

Fire-Marshal MCSPEDON has investigated the firing of the barrels of liquid gas which were on the side-walk, in front of No. 301 Bowery, and having ascertained that it was done by L. KLENEN, a warrant has been issued for his arrest. It appears that the fire greatly endangered neighboring property, and actually inflicted losses which the insurance companies have been obliged to settle. The evidence shows that there was no intent upon the part of KLENEN to set fire to the buildings, and that he knocked in the heads of the barrels and set fire to the liquid, merely as a peculiar way of celebrating Christmas. He is therefore to be prosecuted for malicious mischief.

Judge Benedict's Right to Sit as Circuit Judge—Affirmative Decision by Judge Woodruff.

A short time ago ALEXIS NICHOLAS, an alleged notorious counterfeiter, was convicted at the United States Circuit Court, before Judge BENEDICT, of the Eastern District, who was sitting to try causes on the criminal calendar in place of Judge WOODRUFF.

Col. JOEL B. ERHARDT, counsel for NICHOLAS, made application to Judge WOODRUFF for the discharge of NICHOLAS on habeas corpus, on the ground that the trial and conviction were illegal, as by the terms of the law creating the new Circuit Court Judges, District Judges were confined to their respective districts, and could not legally hold Court outside of them.

It seems that as the law stood prior to the enactment creating the new Circuit Judges, it was the right of District Court Judges to sit in districts other than their own. The new law does not in express terms prohibit this right, but recites that the persons who may hold Court in the several districts comprising a circuit are the Circuit Court Judge and the District Court Judge in their respective districts.

Judge WOODRUFF decides that this provision of the new law does not repeal the provision of the old law, as, while it recites who may sit in the several districts, it does not, in terms, prohibit the District Judges from sitting in districts other than their own, and it requires something more than implication to render mandatory such a provision of law which experience has shown to be not only conducive to the proper dispatch of business, but absolutely necessary in many cases to a proper dispensation of justice.

The petition was denied.

Hon. NOAH DAVIS, United States Attorney, appeared in opposition to the motion.

New-Jersey State Teachers' Association.

On Thursday evening the New-Jersey State Teachers' Institute resumed its session in the Court-house at Camden. "The Duties and Responsibilities of Parents and Teachers as Educators," was the subject of an address by H. P. PIERCE, Superintendent of the Public Schools of New-Brunswick. The morning hour yesterday was devoted to discussions at length on "The Defects in Our Schools," and "Good Order in Schools," and the best method of obtaining it. An essay was also read by Rev. OSCAR CLUTZ, of Vineland, upon the "Kintergarten."

In the afternoon, Miss EARLS, of the State Normal School, read an essay on "Drawing as an Educator." She was followed by Rev. Dr. MCILVAINE, of Newark, formerly Professor of Belles Lettres at Princeton, in an able address on "Education Essentially a Moral Process." The subjects brought up in the address were discussed at some length, and after the annual election of officers, the Society adjourned.

Destructive Fire in Brooklyn—Eleven Houses Destroyed—Loss $35,000.

Shortly after 4 o'clock, yesterday morning, a fire broke out in the house of CHARLES GIBBONS, (one of a row of frame structures,) at the corner of Bergen-street and Utica-avenue, Brooklyn, and before the Fire Department could get to work, so rapidly did the flames spread, that eleven of the houses were practically destroyed, and twenty-two poor families turned out upon the street. Eight of the houses were owned by JEREMIAH BUSBY, of Twenty-third-street, New-York. They were valued at $2,500 apiece, and insured for $1,500 each in the Phœnix Insurance Company. Two more were owned by CHARLES GIBBONS, in whose house the conflagration started; they were also covered by insurance. The remaining one was owned by a widow lady named HARNEY, and it, too, was totally destroyed. The tenants, almost without exception, lost all their furniture, upon which there was no insurance. The flames are supposed to have originated in a defective flue.

THE LAST BOILER EXPLOSION.

Three Lives Lost Through Official Negligence—The Result of Using Patched and Second-Hand Boilers.

At an early hour yesterday morning, the foundry of DEVEREAUX, MILLER & Co., at the junction of North Thirteenth and Second streets, Brooklyn, the scene of the terrible boiler explosion reported yesterday, was the focus of general interest in that City. Many were present to satisfy their curiosity, while others who had had friends injured by the catastrophe came on more serious errands. The saddest feature of the spectacle, however, was the discovery of the bruised and mutilated body of one of the victims, named LOUIS LUSSIER, a painter, in Newtown Creek, at a distance of at least 500 feet from the scene of the disaster. This made three deaths in all. LUSSIER had evidently been working around when the explosion took place, and was struck doubtless by the mass of the boiler, which was itself thrown 150 feet up the creek. He leaves a wife and three children.

The appearance of the foundry was strange in the extreme, all shivered and cracked as it was by the concussion. The building was four stories high, and 100 feet long by 50 feet wide. In the western end there was an immense hole, or rather there were only a few of the bricks remaining that had once constituted the wall through which the boiler in its flight had passed. A wooden extension that had stood fixed to this was also knocked into pieces.

Fire-Marshal KEADY took the following interesting testimony:

WM. L. MILLER, sworn: I live at No. 114 Oak-street, Greenpoint, Brooklyn, and am part owner in the Novelty Iron-works, corner of North Thirteenth and Second streets; an explosion took place at the works last night, by which three men were killed; I was in the office reading a paper when the boiler exploded, and was blown a distance of 150 feet from where it stood; I bought that boiler second-hand, of YONKERS, of Mr. MITCHELL, a broker; it formerly belonged to the Star Arms Company; I paid $450 for the boiler; I don't know how long it had been in use; I never had the boiler tested; we notified the Inspector of Boilers before it was started; I do not know what amount of steam was on when the boiler exploded; my orders were not to have over fifty pounds on; the boiler was supposed to be sixty-horse power; I don't know whether the engineer ever had over fifty pounds of steam on the boiler; he may have had, and I understand he did have, but I don't know this of my own knowledge; the parties who sold me the boiler told me they were in the habit of carrying 100 pounds of steam with it; when I bought it I took a boiler-maker with me, and he said it was one of the strongest boilers he had ever seen; I have examined the boiler since the explosion; I think the explosion was caused by a want of water in the boiler; NICHOLAS STEVENS, the engineer, was killed by the explosion; he was in my employ about three or four weeks; Mr. KENNEDY, with whom Mr. STEVENS served his time, said he was a very competent engineer; I don't know anything about the fire in the cotton-works, supposed to have been caused by the explosion; the men killed by the explosion were NICHOLAS STEVENS, engineer; DANIEL MULHOLLAND, LOUIS LUSSIEN, painter; I estimate my loss on building at $1,000, and on tools and machinery at $4,000; we are insured against fire on the building, but I don't know whether the machinery is insured or not; the last time we cast I found the water low in the boiler, and asked the engineer about it; he said he had two cocks of water, and that was enough; I had found the water low at another time, under another engineer; I discharged one engineer for having the water low in the boiler; I paid the last engineer, Mr. STEVENS, $16 50 a week; when I examined the boiler, on Tuesday last, I did not think the glass gauge indicated two full cocks of water; it requires no additional labor on the part of the engineer to keep the boiler full of water—simply the turning of a cock; I never had any doubts as to Mr. STEVENS' competency as an engineer; I never knew that he drank liquor, and never saw any indication of liquor on him; I have had this boiler in use about two months; after I discovered that a former engineer allowed the water to go low, I had the boiler examined by a boiler-maker and put in order; he caulked it, I believe; I don't know that he did anything more than that.

THOMAS F. POWERS, sworn: I am Examining Engineer and Chief Boiler Inspector for the City of Brooklyn; I have examined the boiler at the Novelty Iron-works, corner of North Thirteenth and Second streets, Brooklyn; the boiler exploded last night and was thrown a distance of 150 feet from its place, and appears to have made a complete turn; the boiler is a locomotive style of boiler, with cylindrical fire-box; the diameter of the fire-box was six feet by ten feet long; the shell of the boiler was four feet six inches in diameter, and ten feet six inches long, containing seventy-seven three-inch tubes; I found the crown-sheet of the boiler in a damaged condition, showing evidence of low water, and I am satisfied that the explosion took place from that cause of low water; the boiler had never been tested by this Department; the crown-sheet was all blistered from having been used with low water, and I consider that the boiler has been very badly used, but it appears to have been a well-constructed boiler; the engineer, NICHOLAS STEVENS, now deceased, was examined by me; had varied experience; machinist by trade, and I considered him a competent engineer; I have examined the premises this morning, and the facts stated above are the result of that examination; I found the feed-pipe open from the well to the feed-pump, showing that the water had been introduced into the boiler; I saw that a fire had occurred in a cotton-waste factory, a block distant, caused by the explosion; the total destruction of property is about $6,000.

JABEZ LOVETT, sworn: I live at No. 181½ North Seventh-street; I am a boiler-maker by trade, and repaired the boiler in the Novelty Iron-works which exploded last night; I repaired it about six weeks ago; I repaired the crown-sheet and found it badly sprung; it was leaking badly when I repaired it; I think the boiler was well constructed, and was of the locomotive pattern; I was inside the boiler, and found it well braced with crowfeet braces, with bars and pins from three-quarters to seven-eighths of an inch; I caulked the seams across the crown-sheet of the boiler; I have seen the boiler since the explosion, and think it exploded from low water; the crown-sheet of the boiler was five-sixteenths in thickness; the braces were from seven to eight inches apart; one boiler was fed from a well with a steam pump; I found the boiler had turned completely over and was carried about 150 feet from its position; I knew the engineer, and believe he was a competent man; he was a machinist by trade; I never knew him to be drunk; he came to me and borrowed some tools to repair the boiler, after I repaired it; he said it was leaking; I did not give him the tools, but I believe he got them; the boiler was capable of sustaining, in my opinion, sixty or seventy pounds of steam to the square inch.

Inquests on the bodies will be held by Coroner WHITEHILL next Wednesday.

Hon. John Morrissey at Jem Mace's Saloon—A Bloody Fight Prevented.

The "Capital," JEM MACE's drinking-place in Twenty-third-street, was on Wednesday evening the scene almost of bloodshed. At a table were seated a number of men, among whom was Hon. JOHN MORRISSEY and GEO. HILL, alias Keys, a desperate character. HILL spat deliberately in MORRISSEY's face, whereupon MORRISSEY drew a Derringer. HILL drew his revolver, and bloodshed was imminent, when JEM MACE, the pugilist, carried MORRISSEY in his arms to an adjoining apartment and locked him in. HILL paced to and fro, shouting for MORRISSEY's blood. Both were intoxicated, and through the timely intervention of MACE a bloody fight was prevented. The whole affair is being quieted, and attempts are made to keep the facts from the public. MACE is sorry that such a disgraceful affair should have occurred at his place.

Probable Murder of a Woman—A Brutal Assault by her Husband and his Brother.

A shocking case of brutality on the part of a husband toward his wife, which will, in all probability, result in the death of the latter, occurred in the village of Westchester, on Monday night last. According to the best information that can be obtained, it appears that Mrs. CONNER, wife of JOHN CONNER, residing at Olinville, No. 2, about half a mile from the railroad station, at Williamsbridge, who, prior to her marriage with CONNER, about eight or nine months ago, had resided as a domestic in the family of Alderman HATFIELD, of Westchester, for a period of about fifteen or sixteen years, on Monday last visited the family of HATFIELD to receive a promised usual Christmas gift. On leaving Alderman HATFIELD's house, Mrs. CONNER proceeded to Fogel's Hotel, in the village, where she understood that her husband was attending a cock-fight. On arriving there she found her husband and a brother of his grossly intoxicated and quarrelsome. CONNER finally yielded to his wife's entreaties and promised to go home with her after taking another drink with his companions of the cock-pit, as a parting glass. CONNER and his wife, accompanied by the brother of the former, then left the hotel, avowedly for Olinville, but they had proceeded a very short distance only when shrieks and cries of murder in a female voice attracted the attention of persons still carousing in Fogel's Hotel, and they, with a number of persons who were on their way home from the village, instantly repaired to the scene of the tragedy and reached the spot in time to find Mrs. CONNER lying on the ground and her husband stamping upon her, and his brother, as alleged, was pounding her head with stones. The latter were severely stopped in their murderous assault, and Mrs. CONNER was conveyed home in a carriage. Some time during the night, Mr JAMES BUTLER, a butcher living in the neighborhood, and who married a sister of Mrs. CONNER, was apprised of what had occurred, and instantly repaired to the residence of CONNER and knocked for admittance repeatedly without any notice being taken. Under these circumstances, Mr. BUTLER forced an entrance into the house, and there found Mrs. CONNER lying in a state of unconsciousness and her husband in the room, but who gave no explanation of his conduct. At an early hour on Tuesday morning, Dr. LANE, of West Chester, and other physicians of the vicinity, were sent for, and although Mrs. CONNER was still alive yesterday, very slight hopes are entertained of her recovery. Mrs. CONNER, during her long and faithful service in the family of Alderman HATFIELD, had managed to save a snug sum of money, which was increased on Christmas night; and her refusal to give up her savings to her husband and brother provoked the two to make the brutal, and probably fatal attack upon her.

Very little seems to be known of JOHN CONNER in the neighborhood of Olinville or William's-bridge, he having only lived there since last Spring. He is said to be about thirty-five years old, and his wife about the same age. The affair was kept so quiet as to have been entirely unknown to CONNER's neighbors until yesterday.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

The Boot and Shoe Dealers Assert Their Rights—They Decline to Submit to Further Dictation from Combinations of Working Men.

The following manifesto has been put forth by the manufacturers of boots and shoes whose names are appended to it:

We, the undersigned manufacturers of boots and shoes, do hereby declare that

Whereas, Our business operations have been unwarrantably interfered with during several years past by secret organizations, who assume to lay down rules and regulations for the government of our factories until such dictation has become tyrannical and unbearable, we deem it at this time our duty to state some of the facts in the case and our resolution in the matter.

1. Our factories are nearly all declared upon a strike for the simple reason that we cannot pay the exorbitant rates demanded by these organizations. 2. They prohibit us from employing any person not a member of their organization, threatening a strike if we do so. 3. They refuse to allow us to take any poor, homeless boy, who wishes to learn the trade and earn an honest livelihood as an apprentice, unless he is the son of a member of their society, our own children even being excluded. 4. They insist that we shall pay the same rates to all workmen, thereby preventing the industrious and skillful workman from earning any more than the lazy and ignorant. 5. They fix rates that we shall pay per week, or per piece, which are much higher than we can afford to pay, and much higher than competent men stand ready and anxious to accept, if not prevented by them; therefore,

Resolved, That we do now declare our factories free. We will employ whomsoever we please, and at such rates as we may agree upon with the workmen regardless of the dictation of any combination of men, and we pledge ourselves to protect, to the utmost extent of our power, any and all men who shall come to us for work, whenever they may be interfered with by malicious persons. We recognize the right of every man to the full value of his own labor, but we also recognize the fact that the labor of one man is of greater or less value than that of another. We would have the industrious and skilful according to his merits, and resist every attempt to force upon us inferior workmen at the same rates.

The idea of all labor combinations is the idea of the rights of man pushed to the extreme, the foundation of which is not charity and love. We stand upon the broad platform of justice; we will not combine to oppress any portion of our race. Our watchword is "Charity;" our motto, "Equal and exact justice to all."

THE CUSTOM-HOUSE.

Difficulties Arising Under the Change of Tariff—Necessity for Prompt Action by Importers.

The difficulties which will arise on and after Jan. 3, by reason of the change of tariff on imported goods, are so numerous that this result should have been foreseen by the officers of the Treasury Department in time to guard against them. The TIMES, yesterday morning, gave the full text of the first regulation which has been made by the Secretary since the bill passed in July last, and merchants have, therefore, had only two days given them to prepare for business, which they should have had as many weeks at least in which to become familiar. The tariff reduces the duty on coffee, sugar, teas, spices, molasses, and some other articles, and puts on the free list many other goods. About two-thirds of the articles first enumerated have been sold prior to the 1st inst., subject to delivery from the 1st to the 10th or 15th of January. Unless the goods can be released from the bonded warehouse in season for delivery, the sale of many of them will doubtless be lost. These goods have been entered at the Custom-house and bonded for withdrawal. The bonds designate the numbers and give descriptions of the packages, and the appraiser has already fixed their valuation, while the gauger and weigher have placed their marks upon them. Some of these lots have been broken into by the withdrawal of certain packages which have been sold by the importer, and therefore the descriptions on the bonds do not answer to the goods remaining in the warehouse. For instance, an importer would enter a cargo of teas, and has from time to time withdrawn all the heavy grades, and as often as each withdrawal would be made the average has been struck on the teas remaining. And so with other articles. In order to protect the Government bonds modifications were necessary for the withdrawal of goods under the new tariff, and these are those which were published yesterday. The difficulties under which merchants and Custom-house officers will labor will be apparent when it is stated that there are at present about 20,000 bonds entered in the warehouse department, and of these 8,000 at least are affected by the change of tariff, and 5,000 of the 8,000 are represented by bonds which have been drawn upon from time to time. The Custom-house officials have determined to consider all goods in bonded warehouse on the 1st of January in the same light as goods which have just arrived, and will proceed to adjust the duties accordingly. Merchants must therefore state the marks and numbers by which the goods remaining in warehouse are designated, also those on which duty has been paid; those which have been passed for withdrawal, but on which the duty has not been paid, and those which have not been passed for withdrawal. This statement should be filed at as early an hour on Tuesday as possible. But the regulations of the Custom-house do not permit the rule of "first come first served" to be observed, and thus will arise another difficulty. For instance, one man has 250 statements which he will present on Tuesday. His clerk goes to the Collector's Department and there is attended to in the alphabetical order in which the importer stands. After the official has examined each, and passed the 250 statements, the clerk goes into the naval office, and there a different order is observed, for in that department numerical designations must be observed. An extra force of clerks will be put on duty in both departments of the Custom-house, but experts are necessary who are familiar with the law, and thus, though the force be increased, business will not be greatly facilitated thereby. The best course for the merchants to pursue is to obtain their blanks early to-morrow morning, and prepare them accurately, so that as little delay as possible may be occasioned at the Custom-house.

The Eastern Mission School.

The children and friends of the Eastern Mission school celebrated their Christmas festival yesterday afternoon at No. 121 Eighth-street. Everything went off in the most joyous manner. Rev. Dr. MORGAN, of St. Thomas' Church, in addressing the children complimented them on their sweet carols and general proficiency. Rev. Dr. GALLAUDET, of St. Ann's Church, also made some very happy and hopeful remarks touching the future prospects of the mission. Rev. WALTER STERLING, who has the more special charge of the mission, thanked the Principal, Miss ELLIS, for her faithful labors, and heartily responded to the encouraging words of the reverend gentleman preceding him.

Methodist Sunday-School Teachers' Association.

A Methodist Sunday-school Teachers' Association has been formed recently among several of the west-side up-town churches. A public meeting of the Association was held in St. Luke's M. E. Church, Forty-first-street, on Thursday evening, and the question of the best methods for promoting the interest and efficiency of the Sunday-school was discussed by Messrs. SMITH, PHAIRE, BAKER and others, after which Rev. Dr. FOSS delivered an address, in which he insisted that no new methods are needed to accomplish those ends, but that by infusing "the old fire" into the methods at present in use, the interest and efficiency of any school may be promoted beyond calculation. The aim and end of all Sabbath-school teaching, he maintained, should be to make the children Christians, but he was free to say that in very many of the schools in this City that object is a secondary one, and the time is consumed in singing semi-secular ditties to minstrel tunes, or in giving out announcements of secular entertainments, of one sort or another, until the children become impressed that religion is the least part of their Sunday-school business. Mr. SMITH cited an example of a Roman Catholic Sunday-school teacher, who had made 4,400 visits to his pupils in one year, and the Doctor made a strong point on the energy and zeal manifested by this fact, and urged it upon his Methodist audience as an excellent example to be followed.

The Clerk at Chambers not having been able to complete his statement, the same will be published hereafter.

St. Ann's Catholic Church in Eighth-Street to be Sold.

In the Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday, before Presiding Justice INGRAHAM, the Trustees of St. Patrick's Cathedral, of the City of New-York, petitioned the Court for an order granting leave to sell St. Ann's Church, situated in Eighth-street, together with the parsonage and school-house adjoining. The petition sets forth that they are about erecting a new St. Ann's Church in East Twelfth-street and need the proceeds of the sale of the old church to expend in the erection. They state that Mr. A. T. STEWART has agreed to purchase the property and pay therefor $125,000; $75,000 in cash, Mr. STEWART to assume mortgages to the extent of $50,000. It appears that the church property is held in trust by the Trustees of St. Patrick's Cathedral, and that the parsonage and school-house lots are leasehold. The lease, which was executed by the Trustees of the Sailors' Snug Harbor, to Mrs. AGNES ROBERTSON BOUCICAULT, wife of DION BOUCICAULT, has twenty-one years to run from May 1, 1860. In December, 1863, the lease was assigned by the lessee above named to the Cathedral Trustees. The church property is estimated at $85,000, the balance, $40,000, to be the value of the adjoining property. There is some provision in the order that at the expiration of the lease it shall be renewed at the option of the purchaser.

Judge INGRAHAM granted the order, and directed it to be entered.

Serious Fire in Wall-Street.

At 6 o'clock yesterday morning, a fire occurred in the office of UNDERHILL & ULSHOEFFER, lawyers, on the third floor of No. 54 Wall-street, a four-story brick building owned by the estate of R. PRINCE, which was damaged to the amount of $2,000. The building is occupied by lawyers and brokers and the following are the sufferers by the disaster, which was caused by a grate filled with live coals falling out: Underhill & Ulshoeffer, $300; George P. Ide, lawyer, third floor, $200; F. Kohberty, lawyer, second floor, $300; J. Bluxome & Co., brokers, same floor, $50; A. & L. Neilson, second floor, $100, and G. M. Thomson, same business, the same amount. Holmes & McGovern, brokers, L. J. Weythe, broker, and M. H. Clarkson, lawyer, all on the first floor, lost but much in damage to furniture. With the exception of that of G. M. Thomson all the losses are covered by insurance.

Public Notice by the New Commissioners of the Court-House.

The following, in the shape of hand-bills, printed in large letters, was, yesterday, posted throughout the Court-rooms, public offices, halls, corridors, &c., of the new Court-house:

NOTICE.

All persons are hereby notified that alterations or work of any kind will not be permitted in the construction of the new County Court-house, unless application shall have been made to, and such work or alterations duly authorized by the Board of Commissioners.

MICHAEL NORTON, THOMAS COMAN, JAMES H. INGERSOLL, JOHN J. WALSH, Commissioners.

NEW-YORK, Dec. 27, 1870.

After these bills had been posted in the Court-rooms for about fifteen minutes, they were torn down by direction of one of the Judges.

The Fowler-Wood Case Again.

In the Supreme Court, yesterday, the two cases of OGDEN vs. WOOD and FOWLER vs. WOOD were up again on an order to examine Mr. FOWLER before trial. The examination was, however, postponed to Tuesday, Jan. 3, at 10½ A. M., in consequence of the illness of Mr. JAMES M. SMITH, counsel for FERNANDO WOOD. These cases were before the Court three or four months ago—Judge CARDOZO presiding—at which time some statements were made and some facts disclosed, tending to show a great amount of corruption on the part of several of the public officials.

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF.

NEW-YORK.

A man named THOMAS F. BRINSMADE was arrested late yesterday afternoon, by Roundsman BARRET, of the Tombs Court Squad, on a warrant issued several days ago, on a complaint of false pretenses, in having obtained $24,000 worth of goods from a down-town merchant. In the absence of Judge DOWLING no details of the case could be obtained. Justice HOGAN remanded the accused for examination by his brother Magistrate.

MINNIE DAVIS, whose recent attempt at suicide in a cell at Police Head-quarters excited so much attention, was brought up at Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday, before Judge FOWLER on a charge of setting fire to the premises of RACHAEL HAGEDORN, of Twenty-ninth-street and Sixth-avenue, on Christmas morning. The prisonor, who lodged with Mrs. HAGEDORN a few days prior to Christmas, effected an insurance on her property to the amount of $3,000, and on the morning in question was discovered setting fire to the furniture. She was held for trial.

Last evening, the boys of the Italian School, Franklin-street, enjoyed their Christmas festival, at the House of Industry, No. 155 Worth-street. Many of them were, by this pleasing circumstance, saved from the misery of a musical excursion, which, last night, would have been anything but harmonious. Many Christmas carols were sung in true Italian style, addresses were delivered by the Superintendent, A. E. CERGOLA, and others, and numerous gifts presented to the boys.

The children of the Third Mission of St. George's Church, were treated to a Christmas festival last evening at the Mission Church, Fourteenth-street near First-avenue. Many fine carols were sung and addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. TYNG, Mr. PHILLIPS, (Superintendent,) and Mr. MCLARN, and before leaving each child received a present, the possession of which completely banished all the unpleasant thoughts which the severe snow-storm was likely to produce on youthful nerves.

Saturday last ANDREW D. CLARK, of Hartford, was arrested in the Bowery by Capt. IRVING and Detective TILLY, upon representations of Officer CARPENTER, of New-Haven, that he had forged the indorsement on a draft for $200 drawn on the Merchants' National Bank of this City by JAS. F. BROWN to the order of EDWIN EDDY. As the Connecticut authorities have been unable to obtain a requisition for the prisoner, he has been discharged from custody.

At a regular monthly meeting of Post "Fairfax," No. 75, G. A. R., held on Thursday evening, at Lyceum Hall, Bloomingdale, the following officers were elected: JOSEPH H. MEREDITH, Commander; R. H. Greene, Senior Vice-Commander; Robert C. Wright, Junior Vice-Commander; James T. Quinn, Adjutant; Francis B. Bickel, Quartermaster; delegate to Department Encampment, R. H. Greene.

VALENTINE SCHLAKEE was held for examination at the United States Commissioner's office, yesterday, on a charge of passing a counterfeit $10 bill on CHARLES H. SMITH, a sub-Deputy Sheriff. The complainant said that the money was given to him by the accused to satisfy an execution, and that the latter had given him two worthless checks on a former occasion.

Yesterday morning a fire occurred in the tenement house, No. 403 West Thirty-ninth-street, beginning in the room of Mrs. LANIGAN, on the third floor, caused by her children playing with matches. The several occupants lost $1,000 in damage, and the building, which is owned by ANN MAHONEY, will require $2,000 for repairs, but is fully insured.

Coroner SCHIRMER held an inquest yesterday, at Bellevue Hospital, over the body of PETER CLARK, a laborer, aged fifty, who died of injuries sustained by a fall into the wall-hole in a new building in Broadway, near Spring-street, on Thursday. A verdict of accidental death was rendered.

The statistics of the interest department at the Sub-Treasury, of which Mr. CADY is chief, show that during the present year there have been paid in coin on account of interest $34,721,-328, of which $26,994,963 were on registered bonds and $57,896,365 on coupons.

ROBERT MCARTNEY, aged twenty-six, of No. 626 East Seventeenth-street, fell from the roof of the new tenement-house, No. 43 Baxter-street, while at work, and was almost instantly killed. Coroner SCHIRMER held an inquest.

At the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday, before Judge SHANDLEY, ALBERT WICKERS was held to answer on a charge of stabbing JAMES RILEY, of No. 172 Greene-street, in the side with a butcher's knife.

RICHARD CASE, aged three years, died yesterday at No. 22 Cherry-street, of scalds sustained on the 19th inst., by the upsetting of a sauce pan of hot water. Coroner ROLLINS was notified to hold an inquest.

ALFRED E. SPEARS, aged nine years, of No. 335 East Ninth-street, yesterday fell from and was run over by a Third-avenue car, and had both legs crushed. He was taken to Bellevue Hospital.

WILLIAM GORDON was committed to answer by Justice SHANDLEY, yesterday morning, for attempting to break into the residence of JOHN PETERSON, No. 292 Sixth-avenue.

The Court of General Sessions adjourned yesterday, until Tuesday next, without transacting any business.

The rooms, parlors and library of the Young Men's Christian Association will be open New-Year's Day, as usual.

BROOKLYN.

The Board of Supervisors met yesterday and appointed JAMES MCAULLEY Engineer of the Court-house. Supervisor CROOKE, who now retires from office after having served the city for twenty-six years, received, in the form of a set of resolutions, the expressed regret of his fellow-laborers at their being compelled to part with him.

The Board of Superintendents of the Poor met yesterday, at Flatbush, and transacted the usual amount of routine business. By the Secretary's report it appears that there are 986 inmates at present in the county institutions, an increase of six within the last week. In the Hospital there are fifty-nine small-pox patients, a decrease of eight since the last report.

The delegates to the Republican General Committee will meet to-night in caucus for the purpose of selecting their candidate for Chairman of the Committee for the incoming year. SILAS B. DUTCHER is spoken of as the most likely man for the office.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. H. B. BROWN, a grocer at No. 210 Tillary-street, while driving through Clay-street was thrown from his wagon and injured so severely that his life is considered precarious.

Coroner WHITEHILL held an inquest yesterday morning on the body of an unknown infant, found on Union-avenue on Thursday night. The verdict was "death from unknown causes."

NEW-JERSEY.

The Republican members of the Newark Common Council, chosen at the last election, have held a caucus, and decided upon D. W. BAKER as President. J. W. STOUT is to be Treasurer and JAMES GILLEN Clerk. All the offices of the City Government were filled, and the caucus nominations will be ratified by the new Council at its first meeting on Tuesday evening.

The tragic death of THOMAS MANDEVILLE, who was burned to death at Pompton on Christmas Eve, induced the attendance of an immense number of friends and sympathizers at the funeral on Thursday. The origin of the fire has not hitherto been explained, the supposition of the barn having been set on fire by a cigar proving incorrect, as neither the deceased nor his friend smoked.

A masquerade carnival took place at the Jersey City Rink last night. WOLCOTT and EAGLER were present, and did some fine skating. A number of the members of the New-York and Brooklyn Skating Clubs were present. The members of the Jersey City Skating Club have presented Prof. BRADY with a very handsome gold-mounted revolver.

On Thursday night a lawyer, doing business at No. 13 Chambers-street, New-York, and named PIERRE C. TALLMAN, was arrested at the New-Jersey Central Railroad Depot, charged with having defrauded HORACE B. SHELTON, of Hoboken, of $1,800. The accused was committed in default of bail.

At the recent meeting of the Boards of Trustees and Directors of the Princeton Theological Seminary, it was represented that $200,-000 was needed to replenish the funds for the maintenance of Professors, library, scholarships, indigent students, &c.

J. H. HEUMANS, a telegraph operator in the employment of the New-Jersey Railroad Company, upon the meadows, has been arrested on a charge of embezzlement by the officers of the Dutchess and Columbia Railroad Company, in whose employment he was formerly.

A man going under the name of G. G. ROBINSON has been swindling the residents of Morris County by representing himself as the agent for the Winans Land Roller. He swindled parties out of various sums, amounting to over $1,000.

J. R. RANTHOL, a contractor on the Midland Railroad, in Warren County, has absconded, leaving a large amount of debts unpaid. He was also in arrears to the laborers employed.

Hon. JOHN HILL, M. C. from New-Jersey, has prevailed upon the Postmaster-General to run mails twice a day over the Boonton branch of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad and between Paterson and Newark.

MARINE COURT.

THE RULES FOR 1871—ASSIGNMENT OF JUSTICES FOR THE SEVERAL BRANCHES DURING THE YEAR.

The following rules are to go into effect Jan. 5, 1871:

1. The Justices holding Court for "non-jury trials," Room No. 3, will try all cases upon process of warrant, attachment or short summons. Such cases will be placed on a separate trial calendar.

2. All non-enumerated motions in notice or order to show cause must be heard before the Justice in attendance at Chambers, and orders to show cause will be made returnable before such Justice, unless otherwise ordered by one of the Justices.

3. Parties are at liberty before a cause is put on the "day calendar," by consent in writing filed with the Clerk, to select their own day for trial; but when a cause is on the day calendar, and reached in regular order, and neither party moving, or no legal excuse being shown by affidavit for postponement, the case will be marked adjourned to go to the foot of the calendar.

4. The Trial Terms will commence on the first Monday of each month, and continue (Saturday excepted) to the end of the third week.

5. The General Terms will commence on the fourth Monday of each month, except July and August. Chief-Justice ALKER, when present, shall preside.

6. During the months of July and August there will not be any regular jury called, but the Justice holding Court will order special panels in his discretion. During July and August there will be but one day calendar, on Tuesday and Friday, held in Part I.; and the Justice holding Court will also dispose of the ordinary motions.

7. Actual engagements of counsel in a Court of Record only will be received as a valid reason for retaining a cause in its place on the day calendar, and such reservation will cease with such engagement.

8. The foregoing rules are in addition to the rules now in force, and such of those now in force as conflict with the present rules are hereby rescinded.

(Extract from the minutes.)

LAWRENCE CLANCY, Clerk.

The following are the assignments of the Judges for the General, Trial and Special Terms, and also for the Chambers of this Court for 1871:

FRIDAY, Dec. 30—P. M.

The "lock-up" in the Money market seemed to be given over today as comparatively a failure as against the Stock Exchange. The Bank balances still withheld from active employment cannot be very important. The profit of continuing the operation at all is more than questionable. The demand for Money was again active among the Brokers in closing up the transactions of the Old Year, but not at the excessive rates of yesterday and the day before. The New-Year Dividends anticipated this week, begin to distribute themselves in the Street, and Money lenders at Bank and on the Street inclined to let out their means, thus increased, with comparative freedom. The change will probably be made even more manifest to-morrow—Saturday—when three days' interest will be made in one. A good many of the Banks and the North-west and other Railroad corporations were paying out their Dividends today, and the aggregate sum will have its influence on the market on Saturday.

The renewed flurry in Union Pacific Bonds and Stocks of last night quickly subsided this forenoon, and by 3 o'clock the rapid reaction had carried up the First Mortgages 3½@4 ₱ cent.; the Incomes 7 ₱ cent.; the Land Grants 3@4 ₱ cent., and other Stock from 10½@13½ ₱ cent. There was much speculative activity in all classes, and all left off firm at the Second Board. The story of the Ames failure, whatever it may amount to the creditors of Messrs. AMES, was in a large measure separated from the affairs of the Road, and no doubt is felt as to the prompt payment of the January Interest.

The State Bonds were strong on Tennessees, and the Central Pacific Bonds firm and in demand at 93½ ₱ cent. The Public Funds continue to show strength in prices, and the transactions in all the 5-20s and in the Coupons of 1881 were large. The Railway Share market was also buoyant, and in Lake Shore, North-wests and Rock Island, and also in Ohio and Mississippi, the market was especially active. The bearish resistance to the general market is by no means equal to the recent fierceness of attack, and Street rumor runs to the effect that the party in combination to "lock up" Money last week and this, have been "going back" upon each other—some of the old heads buying in their shorts while the more fiery spirits were putting out new contracts and talking down all Stocks and all credits in the assured confidence that old and young were still a band of brothers—and a very wealthy and powerful band, at that.

The market for Gold was stronger than last night, and most of the sales were at 110⅛ ₱ cent., the quotation at the close of regular hours 110⅛@110⅜ ₱ cent. The Treasury paid out $900,000 additional January Gold Interest today, and $200,000 Currency Interest. Bills on London, 60 days, were 109½@109⅝ ₱ cent., the market dull for large sums, and actual sales of one ₱ cent. under yesterday's business. Short sight 109½@109⅝ ₱ cent. The rates for Money, on call loan, 7 Currency to 7 Gold Interest; the market comfortable for the Brokers in the Afternoon.

The customs demand for Gold was nearly half a million today, and the entries under the revised Tariff will begin to-morrow. We look for pretty active receipts from Customs through the early weeks of January, and as compared with last season the effect of the new duties on sugars, &c., will scarcely be felt, owing to the large stocks now in Bond waiting the reduced rates that go into operation to-morrow.

The actual state of affairs with the Messrs. AMES, of Massachusetts, would seem to be that the Plow Company bearing their name—an incorporated Company—is under protest; that Messrs. OLIVER AMES & SON have not failed, and that Mr. OAKES AMES, a man of immense private property, has asked for no assistance, though it is possible that he may require some short indulgence on part of his loans on Stock collateral, though not without doubling the security, if required.

In the Long Room at the close of the day the following quotations were made as compared, with Thursday night; the Western Roads closing firm:

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE WAR.

The King of Prussia telegraphs to Berlin, Dec. 29, that the guns of Fort Avron were silenced by the bombardment; the railway station at Noisy was shelled, and the French artillery at Bondy dislodged, and that the garrison of Fort Avron has gone into Paris. The French say the German attacks were repulsed. The Prussian account of the affair at Montoire is, that the German force cut its way through the surrounding French, and captured 240 prisoners. The French account says the Prussians were driven out of the place with casualties and the loss of prisoners. The Prussians are represented as cruelly exacting in making requisitions, and they threaten to hold as hostages fifty prominent citizens of Orleans unless 600,000 francs are raised by the impoverished inhabitants. The German Gen. FRESKOW has ordered the inhabitants of Besançon to restrict their movements to the right bank of the Doubs. Gen. BOURBAKI is again said to be moving east, with instructions to cut the German communications. GAMBETTA'S presence at Bordeaux has given a great impetus to military preparations. French refugees in the Island of Jersey have been ordered, through the French Consul, to report to army head-quarters or be considered deserters. The movements of the French Army of the North are not known beyond the fact that Arras has been abandoned by it. Gen. FLETINGEAS has been sent from Bordeaux to superintend the defenses of Havre. Both German and French troops suffer terribly from the cold, and a Bordeaux telegram says strong reinforcements have been sent forward to replace the men thus disabled. The Prussian reply to the British Government's demand regarding the sinking of British ships in the Seine, is that it will give indemnity bonds to the owners of the vessels, but will not compensate the seamen for the harsh treatment they received.

GENERAL EUROPEAN NEWS.

The wounds received by Gen. PRIM are seven in the left shoulder, and two fingers shattered so as to make amputation necessary. The balls have been extracted and the patient is recovering. He will probably resign when the King elect ascends the throne, and retire into private life. The Cortes has passed a resolution of horror at the crime and confidence in the Government ....Wurtemburg and Hesse have ratified the federal treaties with North Germany....The French Government has notified the Powers interested that France will not send a representative to the London Conference unless the Republic is recognized by them....The Tiber has overflowed and half of the City of Rome is flooded.

The British Admiralty, as one of the points of the investigation into the loss of the iron-clad Captain, has ordered that in future the length and weight of the masts shall be less, and concrete, in a cellular bottom, shall be used as ballast. In consequence of a heavy snow-storm in Great Britain the lines connecting London with the submarine cable did not work well. The loss of the bark Thuruelde, from Philadelphia, for Bremen, and three seamen, is reported from Liverpool. PHILIP HARDWICK, the architect, died yesterday, aged seventy-eight.

GENERAL.

A telegram from Ottawa, Ontario, gives from an official source the list of fishing vessels captured by British and Canadian cruisers, which we printed yesterday. The statement is put forth by the Canadian Minister of Marine.

Navigation on the Potomac, at Washington, is entirely closed by the ice on the river, which is from five to seven inches in thickness.

The Marshall House, at the east end of the wire-bridge across the Alleghany, at Pittsburg, was burned yesterday, and the wire cables of the bridge heated, until they parted, letting the entire structure into the river, with twenty persons who were on it. Four persons were fatally injured, several others severely. One man is believed to be buried under the ruins.

An appropriation of $75,000, for the erection of a soldiers' monument on Boston Common, has been made by the City Council of Boston.

A family in Mount Vernon-street, Boston, accuses FREDERICK MAYNARD, an English domestic, of robbing them of diamonds worth $2,000.

A St. John, N. B., lumber schooner went ashore, on Thursday, on Barnstable Bar, Mass., beat across the bar, and drifted on Yarmouth Flats. Her crew was rescued. The British brig Alexander, from Windsor, N. S., went ashore at Orleans, Cape Cod, on Thursday, and lost her mate, Mr. BARRETT.

The ice in the James River has put a stop to navigation. The steamer from New-York got within twenty miles of Richmond yesterday, but was forced to return to City Point and discharge cargo, which will be forwarded by rail.

The Government has, at the request of Gen. POPE, postponed the removal of the settlers on the Miami Indian Reservation in Kansas.

The health of JOHN MORAN, the Stoughton, Mass., murderer, is failing under the effects of a wound received when he was arrested and depression of spirits.

The Missouri-avenue House, in East St. Louis, was burned on Thursday. The loss is $120,000.

Owing to the death of Mrs. BELKNAP, there will be no public reception at the Executive Mansion on Monday, nor will the families of members of the Cabinet keep open house on that day. The funeral will take place on Sunday.

The station-keeper, stage-driver and cook at Mission Camp Stage Station, near Tucson, Arizona, were murdered and the station-keeper's daughter wounded, on Christmas Eve, by a band of robbers from Sonora, who plundered the place and escaped into Mexico. They also killed a teamster on the road.

The Gloucester (Mass.) fishing fleet lost last year thirteen vessels and ninety-seven men, who leave twenty-six widows and forty-five children.

The steamers Norwich and Rip Van Winkle reached Rondout in safety yesterday morning. There was a heavy ice-gorge at Poughkeepsie. A snow-storm set in there last night.

How to Raise Money for New-Year's Gifts.

The process of carrying on a Government by means of buying out opposition, and distributing stolen property once a year among the "poor," is attended with some disadvantages. In the first place, it causes a considerable drain on the resources. The Tweed gang have the public Treasury entirely at their disposal, but it is possible to exhaust even that mine. When one man has accumulated nine or ten millions of dollars, it stands to reason that his confederates will expect him to "come down" handsomely, under penalty of exposures which might be awkward for the ringleaders, even in days when the general public is sublimely indifferent as to how much it is robbed, or who robs it. There must be a division of the booty, and that takes away the ready money. Hence it is that at this time of year diamond pins, and silver services, and brown-stone houses are flying about among the Tweedites in all directions. They are so elated with their good fortune that we doubt whether one of them has been really sober since last Friday night. Their "gifts" represent the black-mail which thief levies upon thief. The tea services now being distributed by TWEED are not "presents," in the ordinary sense of the word. They are sops thrown out to quiet his hungry supporters, paid for with the public money, but not the less valued by the recipients on that account. Why should they have any scruples about taking the plunder? The public has no objection to their receiving it, but rather likes to look on, and thinks it very good sport.

But heavy as the taxes are, they do not come in fast enough to keep pace with the expenses of the Tweedites. Hence some very extraordinary measures have to be resorted to. To begin with, the annual reports due on the 1st of January are all ordered to be withheld until June. The trick of suppressing Controller CONNOLLY'S report, and then calling in MOSES TAYLOR and JOHN JACOB ASTOR to sign a certificate that everything is "all right," has answered so well that our excellent rulers now intend to adapt it to all the City Departments. This will keep the hands of the great whitewashing firm pretty full—but there is still another job preparing for them, if we are not misinformed. We are assured on pretty good authority that Controller CONNOLLY is unable to pay over to the State Controller the million of dollars due from this county for its proportion of State taxes. TWEED & Co. have "begged off" until the middle of January. The division of plunder now going on has probably so far depleted the Tweed Treasury as to oblige CONNOLLY to draw upon the City funds. It will therefore be very necessary to have those useful persons, TAYLOR and ASTOR, in the house to do another stroke of business. They are the wet-nurses of the Ring, and will have to sleep on the premises. This time it will be considered advisable to give to their names the additional weight of JAMES FISK, Jr. His knowledge of finance, his strict integrity, his wealth and his general character render him a very fit man to be added to the Astor-Taylor Committee, and the public will not be quite satisfied unless they see his name to the next whitewashing report.

Then the Americus Club ball has to be provided for. This Club is another of the "institutions" by means of which TWEED and SWEENY keep themselves dictators over the City. It enables them to bribe some "awkward customers," to please others by giving them unlimited opportunities for whisky drinking, which is the life and soul of Tweeddom, and generally to keep up an esprit de corps, without which an organization like that of this gang would soon go to pieces. When attacks are made on the Ring, it is very necessary to have some people going about in respectable stations, assuring others that everything is "on the square," and that the attacks are prompted by a variety of underhanded motives. Thus prominent members of the Union Club act as fuglemen to TWEED. Thus, also, the Brooklyn Eagle is not above going to the World for a story, invented by some idiot for the purpose of convincing people as stupid as himself that the sum of $18,000 would be quite sufficient to silence all attacks on the Ring. The World must earn its money somehow, and we must say it earns it in a very bungling manner,—but when the Brooklyn Eagle willfully repeats what it knows to be a fabrication, it for the moment descends to a plane which puts it outside the arena of respectable controversy.

Thus, then, by giving each other hush-money, by bribing a few hacks to invent preposterous slanders, by making a show of liberality to the poor man once a year while robbing him all the year round—the Tweedites manage to keep in power, and even to find advocates at dinner parties, and in respectable clubs—by which we do not intend any reference to the Americus Club, or its offshoot, the "Blossoms," the Winter Paradise of the "soakers." TWEED, like WALPOLE, thoroughly believes that every man has his price; and thus far his experience of life has done much to justify his conclusion. He cannot, for instance, buy the Herald outright, but he can get it to emit a feeble squeak or two in his favor toward dusk, when it thinks nobody is looking, and under cover of another name. We need not say how completely he mesmerized the World. It dances now to any tune he whistles. The "gift enterprise" business has answered well in that quarter. The only drawback to TWEED and SWEENY'S enjoyment of this festive season consists in the fact that the public money will not flow in fast enough. We see no help for it but to call in those indispensable men of all work, ASTOR and TAYLOR. Not that they will advance any money—they are a little too "smart" for that. They will only sign documents to induce other people to advance money, thus acting in the favorite capacity of "decoy ducks." The public is very well contented. TWEED and SWEENY know that they cannot presume too far upon its patience, and therefore it is quite safe for them to begin the new year by ordering the entire suppression of all the annual reports upon City affairs, and buying up all the silver tea services in the City for presents to each other. Not that they ever drink tea, but silver is silver in whatever shape it comes. The true Tweedite would scorn to put his lips to anything weaker than the magic draught concocted every Sunday in the "Boss'" famous punch-bowl, and ladled out to the elect in his "palatial" stables.

The Capture of Fort Avron.

Yielding, probably, as much to the pressure of public opinion in Germany as to considerations of military necessity, the first step in the bombardment of Paris has been completed. It is understood that the great strategical leader of the German forces has, from the first, been opposed to any attempt to reduce Paris by shot and shell. The true master of the military art is never prodigal of human life. Gen. VON MOLTKE has doubtless a very clear perception of what it will cost to carry Paris by storm, and the magnitude of the task may fairly be guessed at from the length of time he has refrained from attempting it. The decided opinions of BISMARCK and VON ROON, both of whom are said to have advocated more active measures, he has been able to overrule, but the growing discontent of Germany—a Germany that has been giving freely of her very life's blood to have France at her feet—has proved too powerful for him. Away in fatherland, he has found his call for levy after levy freely responded to. The Landwehr came gaily to the front, although the defense of Germany was their allotted duty; and now there are drafts from the Landsturm coming forward, of fathers and heads of families, the breadwinners of a people who at heart love peace, and yet there is no murmur heard at the stern requirements of war. Only the people have got it into their heads that their Generals are showing a foolish clemency in sparing the stubborn and unexpectedly heroic populace behind the walls of Paris, and have got tired of hearing how the ranks of their brethren get thinned, as sortie after sortie comes out behind the still unsilenced forts, and after doing their bloody work, retreat safely to the same covert again. If luxurious and pampered Paris can live for weeks upon horse-flesh, how much longer may it still hold out upon the stores of bread and wine that are said to be so ample? If the work is to be done, let it be done quickly, reason the people across the Rhine. The ravages of disease and the inclemency of the weather, between them, will shortly cost as many lives as might have effected a lodgment in the outer circle of the Parisian forts.

Fort Avron may serve as a strong offensive position to the Germans, or it may prove more difficult to hold than it has been to take. Its possession will certainly form a check upon sorties from the north-east which have hitherto been so successful. If there is heavy enough artillery, as we have every reason to believe to be the case, ready to be mounted upon it, the fall of Rosny, situated on the opposite eminence, about two miles nearer Paris, is only a question of days, and then the suburb of Montreuil will soon be a mass of ruins, and the charmed circle of the outer enceinte will be broken. On the other hand, the Prussians have occupied a point which they cannot abandon without great loss of prestige, and on which the French, moving as they do round a much smaller circle, and having all the facilities of the railroad round the city at their command, can at any time direct an enormous weight of men and metal. Situated not only within easy range of Fort Rosny, but also of Romainville and Fontenay, the redoubt erected in the grounds of the Chateau Avron may turn out a very costly acquisition. Either way, its capture marks a new phase of the siege of Paris, and probably forms the prelude to a more sanguinary struggle than any of those that have yet occurred for the possession of the capital of France.

The Mikado and Mr. Seward.

Mr. SEWARD'S journey is characteristic of the man. American traveling statesmen have commonly turned their faces toward Europe; but Mr. SEWARD adopts the more original, and in some respects, more instructive course, of journeying straight toward the setting sun. The development of American interests in that direction has always been the subject of Mr. SEWARD'S profound interest, and his negotiation for the purchase of Alaska is but one of many proofs of the importance he attaches to Asiatic relations with the Great Republic. He justly estimates the far-reaching consequences of the commercial chain whereof Pacific railroads and our freshly acquired Pacific Territory are the primary links; he knows that we are to be bound perhaps more closely to Asia on the West than to Europe on the East; and although Mr. SEWARD no longer fills an official post, his great reputation is worthily employed in aiding to extend the national influence and friendship among the Oriental nations with whom we expect to have such intimate dealings hereafter.

On the 14th of October, Mr. SEWARD was the recipient of an honor which is regarded as quite without parallel. He was presented to the Japanese Mikado, and this under circumstances of peculiar distinction. The young Duke of EDINBURGH was admitted to the presence of the Mikado; but, although some ancient formalities were waived on that occasion, we believe the young visitor was not, like Mr. SEWARD, brought face to face with the Japanese Sovereign. It may also be said that the Duke, being of royal blood, might more readily, without shocking precedents, be received by a despotic prince than could a simple republican gentleman. Be this as it may, the interview in question took place, and, considering that the United States was the first foreign Power with which Japan accepted intercourse, there seems in this new concession a manifest propriety. It is said that Mr. SEWARD, in setting forth, expressed the intention of visiting in person the rulers of the different nations into whose dominions he might penetrate; and it is no doubt to this design, and Mr. SEWARD'S known skill in carrying his designs into execution, that the singular compliment paid to him, and through him to this country, is attributable.

It appears that the Japanese Ministers of Foreign Affairs, on being apprised by Mr. DELONG, the United States Minister Resident, of the arrival of Mr. SEWARD, accompanied by Ex-Postmster-General RANDALL, sent an invitation to those gentlemen, and to Mr. DELONG, to meet them at breakfast. This courtesy was, however, civilly evaded, and ultimately, on the express ground of his desire to promote and extend the friendly relations happily existing between Japan and the United States, the Mikado granted to Mr. SEWARD the extraordinary honor of a private audience. The conditions of the interview were arranged by the Japanese officials, with a curious minuteness of detail. Each individual present was requested to stand in a certain designated spot—plans of the hall of audience, carefully marked, being submitted in advance—so that the interview had to be rehearsed with much of the precision once said to have been exacted by Mr. MACREADY, the tragedian. Besides this, copies of the remarks intended to be made by the Mikado were furnished to the American Legation, and copies were asked in exchange of the proposed observations of Mr. SEWARD and Mr. DELONG.

In due time the momentous interview took place. Its chief peculiarity seems to have consisted in the fact that, while the Mikado remained seated, he received his guests—contrary to all usage and tradition—completely unveiled. Hitherto the Ambassadors of the Great Powers, when admitted to His Majesty's presence, have seen only a part of his person at a time. One or two have seen his face; but on these occasions the whole of the rest of his figure was concealed. Others have seen his body; but in these instances his face was carefully hidden. Only to Mr. SEWARD has it been given to see the whole of His Majesty's person at once. As if to make up in a manner for so exceptional a proceeding, the interview was very short; and the speeches—especially those of the Mikado—were models of brevity. The first, to Mr. SEWARD, is reported by the correspondent of a contemporary as follows:

"You have been so long connected with the Government of the United States that any suggestions you can make toward promoting friendly intercourse between Japan and the Treaty Powers I trust you will freely make to the Prime Minister."

To Mr. DELONG the Mikado delivered himself thus:

"I am glad to see you in such good health, fulfilling the duties of your office."

The replies, while brief, were less so than the addresses of the Mikado, in which, certainly, the force of sententiousness could hardly go further.

As an indication of Japanese good feeling toward the United States this interesting event has unmistakeable significance. The Oriental nations infringe upon their customs with singular reluctance, and the considerations must be weighty, indeed, which induce them to venture upon great innovations. We trust that this memorable interview of Mr. SEWARD with the Sovereign of Japan will be a prelude to closer commercial and social relations with that rich and remarkable nation; and that our own citizens will not forget the gratitude justly due to Mr. SEWARD for this last proof of his patriotism and energy.

Jury Duty in Kings County.

We called attention the other day to the singular action of the Commissioner of Jurors of Kings County in requiring the performance of jury duty from members of the National Guard residing in his district, but belonging to regiments in the First Division. According to the Brooklyn Eagle, he relies for justification upon the plea that the act of April 17, 1858, prescribing the duties of his office, only exempts from jury duty the members of regiments in Kings County; that section 13 of the Militia law of 1870, although allowing a resident of Brooklyn to enlist in the First Division, and providing expressly that a removal from New-York to Brooklyn shall not prevent a member of the National Guard being held to duty in the regiment to which he belongs, does not repeal or modify the former law.

To this extent Mr. LINSKY is probably correct. The trouble is, that his examination of the law has been hasty and imperfect. As he states however, "that if there is any later law that touches his duty, he would be glad to have it pointed out," we refer him to section 253, of the Military Code of 1870, which expressly repeals all acts and parts of acts inconsistent therewith. That act provides that every member of the National Guard, regularly performing duty, "shall be exempt from jury duty." This provision is without limitation as to locality, and consequently extends over the entire State. Now, the Brooklyn Commissioner does not deny that the voluntary enlistment of a resident of that City in a New-York regiment makes him a regular member of the National Guard. When, therefore, a law passed two years after the act upon which he relies provides that every member of the National Guard shall be exempt from jury duty, the whole question is covered; and it is absurd to attempt to weaken its force by insisting that to enjoy the privilege of exemption the volunteer must "belong to a regiment in the county in which he resides." The course taken by Mr. LINSKY is at variance with the decision of the Adjutant-General of the State, as well as with the plain reading of the law.

A Bad Sign in California.

The little respect entertained for human life west of the Rocky Mountains long since became proverbial, and the fact that a fierce dispute or a supposed insult has been productive of bloodshed is hardly deserving of comment from frequent repetition. Much of the wanton ferocity characteristic of a wild mining life, which justified a murder on the ground of a refusal to drink, has indeed passed away; still, every now and then, there is a sudden outburst of unrestrained and seemingly contagious brutality, indicating that our Pacific States have not yet outgrown their early curse. It would seem, too, as if the epidemic is consistent in itself, to the minutest detail; as, for instance, at one time there is a series of ruffianly and unprovoked murders; at another, murder for the purpose of robbery holds sway; and, at still another time, jealousy is the immediate cause; but rarely do two of these classes of causes appear at the same time, one holding, as it were, undisputed possession until public opinion becomes too strong for it, when it disappears, to come again in due course of rotation.

During the past few months there have been several cases of murder in San Francisco and its vicinity, all of which are traceable to the incitements of a jealous nature. Women as well as men seem to be infected by the mania, thereby increasing its virulence; for the shooting of Judge CRITTENDEN by his mistress, in the presence of his wife and children, forms as tragical a denouement as was ever conceived in the brain of a novelist. A few days later a husband killed a supposed rival, in broad daylight, in the open street, while the unworthy cause of the difficulty sat in an opposite window, calmly surveying the scene—waiting, like the ladies at the tournaments during the Middle Ages, to bestow her smiles upon the victor. Still later, we have a man shooting a woman for not wanting to marry him; besides sundry other less striking cases. Truly, for an isolated place, the scandalmongers of San Francisco have a plentiful store-house from which to draw their supplies. It is not a very enviable stock in trade, as it bears witness louder than words could do, to the existence of an immense amount of corruption, extending through the whole social scale, from the wealthy and influential down to the very poorest.

It is with regret that we speak thus of our furthest West, particularly California; it has so much of free young life and vigor in its composition, that we feel bound to accept everything done there as merely the untrammeled growth of our own cherished ideas; and that it should bear such bitter fruit might give us cause to doubt the healthiness of the stock from whence it sprung, if we were not convinced that these openly flagrant cases are certain proofs that the whole system is undergoing a purification; and that they are, indeed, only the infantile disorders, which must be passed through in order to insure healthy youth and manhood.

MINOR TOPICS.

A genuine, old-fashioned snow-storm is one of the last gifts of the dying year. The jingle of sleigh-bells will be heard on every avenue this morning, and the early afternoon will find the Park thronged with gay equipages and joyous, merry crowds. The sound maxim hereabout, in the matter of sleighing, is, "Put not off till to-morrow what may be realized today." There may be sleighing on Monday,—or there may be slush. Meanwhile the storm has a practical aspect which to those who are compelled to walk, or whose rides are confined to the stage or the horse-car, is far from pleasant. The organization of the Street-cleaning Department and the arrangements of the car companies are such that three or four inches of snow bring us almost to a stand-still. Travel is exceedingly uncertain. You cannot tell when you start homeward at what hour you will reach your destination. The Police may rid us of some drawbacks if they will promptly do their duty by compelling storekeepers and householders to clear the sidewalks.

The close of the present year bids fair to have a fatal distinction in the matter of terrible disasters involving loss of human life. The burning of the Marshall House, at Franklin, Penn., yesterday morning, occurred at an hour when a repetition of the scenes that attended the destruction of the Richmond hotel was impossible. A very singular extension of the fire made it, however, almost, if not altogether, as fatal. A suspension bridge, formed of wire, conducted to the other side of the Alleghany River, and twenty people who were probably gazing at the fire from what they considered a safe distance, were, by the snapping of the cables from the heat, suddenly precipitated among the broken and floating masses of ice below. Crushed by the falling ruin, those who were dashed into the river found in the water a merciful end to their sufferings. The scene, aggravated as its horrors were by the difficulty of floating skiffs in the ice-encumbered river, must have been a very terrible one, forming, let us hope, the last of the great tragedies with which the present month has been replete.

"Better something than nothing" is probably the comment that rose to most lips on reading Superintendent MACGREGOR'S order requiring the City hotels to place fire-escapes in their buildings. Any device that tends to prevent the recurrence of the Spottswood Hotel disaster is desirable in this City and everywhere else. Every lost life might have been saved had the Richmond building been provided with escapes akin to that which the Superintendent proposes to bring into more general use here. But contrivances like those which are now attached to tenement-houses are utterly insufficient to secure the safety, in the case of fire, which should be one of the characteristics of every good hotel. The arrangements of nearly all are in this matter shamefully defective. Everything requisite for elegance and comfort, in ordinary circumstances, is provided. There are admirable facilities for getting upstairs and down, and for going in and out, so long as all runs smoothly. But for the perils and panic incident to the occurrence of fire, no arrangement whatever is made. In most hotels, even the night-watching is less systematic and complete than it ought to be. The time will come when hotel proprietors will count the means of insuring safety among the things to be provided for their guests.

The collapse of the Home Fire Insurance Company, of New-Haven, reveals a state of things not calculated to inspire unbounded confidence in corporate management. The Company has been one of the most extensive and popular in the country, and its outstanding risks are at this moment enormous. Suddenly, its managers confess their inability to carry it on longer. All its capital is gone, and obligations remain unsatisfied. How loosely the business has been managed, some of the facts adduced at a stockholders' meeting enable us to understand. Thus, the actual assets are a small percentage of those which have been reported: $160,000 in the hands of agents dwindle down to $54,000; bills receivable, valued at $35,000, yield less than $7,000; and so forth. On the other hand, the realised losses are nearly double the estimate,—and more are to come. There has evidently been almost inconceivable recklessness in the acceptance of risks and in the liberty accorded to agents. Fraud is also imputed in connection with an unexplained over-issue of stock, of which a favored circle reaped the benefit. Altogether, the exposure is one of the most scandalous that has recently occurred in the insurance world.

We can scarcely wonder that the Government of France declines to participate in the Conference to be held in London to reconsider the terms of the Paris Treaty of 1856. There is an incongruity in the invitation extended by England to a Government which it has never formally recognized. A Government which is deemed worthy of being present at a great council of nations is surely worthy of recognition as a de facto Power. There is reason, therefore, in the refusal emanating from Bordeaux to send a representative to London unless the Republic be previously acknowledged. The latter incident can hardly be hoped for yet. Crowned heads will salute the Republic when it shows that it can live without them—and not till then. The absence of France from the Conference may, however, ultimately prove a source of embarrassment to other Powers. She will not be bound by their decision. Her rulers will be free to act as the interests of France may seem to require in all matters connected with the Eastern question, irrespective of the wishes or will of England. France will not always be down, and when she does rise again, her people cannot be blamed if they remember how little they owe to former allies.

The facts elicited with reference to the boiler explosion at Brooklyn, on Thursday, afford additional proofs that we have public inspectors who do not inspect, and protective laws which do not protect. Here was a second-hand boiler, set down in the midst of a foundry employing a considerable number of men, which was subjected to all varieties of pressure without those immediately connected with it having any but the vaguest idea of how much it could stand. The City Inspector was informed when it was put in, but, from press of business, probably, failed to examine it. The proprietors of the works evidently considered that they had washed their hands of any responsibility for the future of their boiler, when they had formally complied with the provisions of the law. And so the huge kettle was patched and tinkered, and subjected at times, apparently, to twice the pressure it could safely stand, and the point having been at length reached when neglect became fatal, it blew up; killing three men as a convincing proof that a violation of natural law causes its own penalty. Shall we have a "whitewashing" verdict in this case too?

A new element of legal uncertainty has been discovered by the Supreme Court of Iowa, which has decided that the use of intoxicating liquor by a juror or jurors during the progress of a trial is a reason for discarding a verdict and granting a new trial. Drunkenness was not alleged; the question turned upon the mere drinking of liquor of an intoxicating nature. This is pushing the total abstinence doctrine a little too far. Teetotalers may or may not be better qualified for the discharge of jurors' duties than men who habitually or occasionally resort to stimulants,—but the question has not reached a stage which calls for judicial decision. Cases are common in which during the progress of a long trial the jurors have need of refreshments, and it is preposterous to allege that a verdict may go for naught because one of the twelve who render it took a glass of wine or whisky with his sandwich or cracker. If this rule is to prevail, it will be necessary to add a teetotal clause to the customary oath. Besides, if jurors may not nurse the inner man, what restraint ought to be placed upon Judges? The Iowa Court must decide again.

The colonizing movement spreads. Greeley Colony in Colorado has prospered thus far, and we earnestly hope will continue to do so—examples of that kind are worth all the homilies in the world. Now Chicago is following suit with a Chicago Colorado Colony, and the Spring will probably witness other efforts in the same direction. In this City the co-operative principle is being applied to plans for establishing manufacturing and agricultural settlements in some of the Southern States. Some of these plans are crude, speculative, and suspicious. Others bear the impress of honest purposes, and of energy and capacity in their organization. The difficulty is in acquiring facts sufficient to enable persons to discriminate between societies that are practicable and otherwise entitled to confidence, and societies which have their origin in the devices of land speculators or schemers of some other sort. Co-operation is undoubtedly the best auxiliary of colonization in the South; and in trustworthy hands it ought to be a success. With proper management, North Carolina should attract more settlers than Colorado.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theatrical.

WOOD'S MUSEUM.

One of the pleasantest and most instructive of resorts, especially for children and country visitors, is Wood's Museum. It is pleasant because it is bright, cheerful and varied, and instructive because of the great store of zoological and other curiosities, which always teach a lesson, besides exciting wonder. Besides this, the pastimes at Wood's appear to be always of an inoffensive character. They may not always be very forcible in the histrionic sense, but they are at least not repulsive. The pieces are neatly acted, and there is often a spirit and variety about them that would surprise some who think of the place solely as a museum and not as a theatre. Just now the lively burlesque of "Paris" is passing through the final performances of a prosperous run, and the "Protean artist, Mr. JOHNNY THOMPSON," is seen to advantage, at the matinées, in a characteristic drama. We regret to say that during this piece, on Wednesday afternoon, an accident occurred that might have proved serious. A pistol in the hands of one of the characters was discharged so close to the face of Miss ANNIE FIRMIN, who played the heroine, as to burn the young lady's face and very nearly to injure her sight. Fire-arms cannot be used too carefully either on the stage or off it, and we trust this event will serve as a warning to those engaged for the future.

OLYMPIC THEATRE.

"Wee Willie Winkie" reached on Thursday evening its one hundredth representation. The audiences are hardly less numerous than they were at the outset of the run of the pantomime, and the holiday entertainments have, of course, tested in a manner most trying to the temper of all the officials of the house, but most cheering to it when results were aimed at, the capacity of the auditorium and outer colgnes of vantage. There will be a matinée today in addition to the usual evening rehearsal, and a special day rendering of the piece can be attended on Monday.

LINA EDWIN'S THEATRE.

A matinée performance of "Little Jack Sheppard" and "Fra Diavolo," and an evening representation of the same bill, will offer the last opportunities of witnessing these amusing plays. A change of bill will be made for the two performances on Monday.

Musical.

SUNDAY CONCERT.

The Ninth Regiment Band will give its first concert at the Grand Opera-house on Sunday evening. Mr. CARLO PATTI is to direct, and he has selected an excellent programme for the interpretation of the band, which numbers 100 members.

SATURDAY POPULAR CONCERT.

The seventh popular concert at Association Hall will occur this afternoon. The artists are Mme. ANNA BISHOP, Miss FERNANDA TEDESCA, Mme. DE BARRY, CH. FRITCH and Signor ANTONIO L. MORA.

SURPLUS SURPLICES.

Colored Vestments in High-Church Episcopal Services to be Discontinued—Views of Bishop Potter and of Rev. C. W. Morrill, of St. Alban's.

The visitor to St. Alban's and St. Sacrament's Churches, to-morrow, will recognize one very important change in the usual services characteristic of these churches. The gorgeous vestments worn by the ministers will be discontinued, and the plain white used in other Episcopal churches substituted. This reform has not been introduced without considerable controversy between the Bishop of New-York and Rev. Mr. MORRILL, rector of St. Alban's, nor is it yet agreed that the change spoken of will be permanent. A reporter of this paper called on Bishop POTTER, yesterday, and was kindly furnished with the above fact. The venerable Bishop said that the clergy of his diocese bore to him the relationship of children, and special communications to them were not intended for the public. Such men as Rev. Dr. TYNG and Rev. Mr. MORRILL were gentlemen who might be accorded latitude in their views; and yet there must be certain limits beyond which a minister cannot go. He deprecated the use of the word "mass" in reference to the service of the Episcopal Church, and then spoke of the change in vestments as St. Alban's, which was made, he said, in accordance with his expressed wish. The reporter also visited Rev. Mr. MORRILL, whom he found strong in his High-Church views, and fully satisfied that the ritual of St. Alban's was that of the Church of the Reformation. He had grave doubts whether the change of vestment would be permanent, but expressed himself as being in entire harmony with the Bishop. He spoke in the most severe terms of American journalism, and held up England as a model for veracity and honor. From the above fact it is evident that the ritualistic element in the Episcopal Church will soon be put to a test, and that the venerable Bishop of New-York is opposed to the anachronism, so palpable in the Church of which he is so bright an ornament. It is to be hoped that the scandal caused by a like controversy in London, in reference to St. Giles' Church in the East, will not be repeated here.

The Snow-Storm—Preceding Cold Weather—Casualties on the Ice.

Yesterday morning the weather was intensely cold, causing persons out of doors to look the picture of woe, their countenances reflecting great pain and anguish. Many bore the trial with patience and good humor, while others grumbled and appeared in no pleasant mood, ready for a scrimmage with any one who should be unfortunate enough to tread on their corns. Many were the accidents to pedestrians, wicked little boys, not having the fear of the law before their eyes, fond of fun and frolic, having improvised skating grounds on our side-walks, to the danger of pedestrians, who frequently saluted terra firma in a very unbecoming fashion, to the great delight of the passers-by who were fortunate enough to escape. Nor were the ladies less fortunate. Many of the fair sex were seen in positions not at all graceful or dignified, but they bore it with equanimity. Horses did not escape either; many of them were put hors de combat, and additional ones had to be put on to several of the cars. Toward evening the snow made its appearance, coming down in heavy flecks, causing pedestrians to run to the cars and patronize them more fully than ever otherwise would. The consequence was that the horse-cars were crowded, and it was most unpleasant to travel in them, your next neighbor saturating you with a plentiful supply of snow. The railroad companies sent out during the day several horses with wagons of salt, which was freely distributed on the tracks

IS NOT EQUALED BY ANY MEDICINAL PREPARATION IN SUCH DISEASES AS I RECOMMEND IT. THE MEDICAL PROFESSION AND DRUGGISTS ARE RESPECTFULLY INVITED TO READ THE EVIDENCE CAREFULLY, AND JUDGE OF THE REAL MERIT OF MY PREPARATIONS, THE GENUINENESS OF CERTIFICATES—IN FACT, OF ANYTHING I OFFER MUST BE AS I STATE.

IF THE WAGER IS ACCEPTED, THE FUNDS WILL BE DONATED TO SUCH CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS AS MAY BE DECIDED UPON. BEAR IN MIND, I WANT CERTIFICATES FOR THESE DISEASES FROM PERSONS OF EQUAL STATUS TO THOSE OFFERED BY ME, AND WHO HAVE SUFFERED FROM THE SAME DISEASES, THE MATTER TO BE DECIDED BY FOUR GENTLEMEN OF THE MEDICAL PROFESSION, OF WHICH NUMBER I SHALL HAVE THE CHOICE OF (2) TWO.

MANY MAY BE INCLINED TO MAKE REMARKS OF AN UNKIND CHARACTER, AND FREQUENTLY SPEAK DISPARAGINGLY OF AN ADVERTISER, NO MATTER WHAT HE DOES TO CONVINCE THE AFFLICTED OF THE GENUINE MERITS OF HIS PREPARATIONS.

THIS PREJUDICE EXISTS IN EVERY BRANCH OF BUSINESS, BUT MORE PARTICULARLY IN THE DRUG AND MEDICAL LINE. PUBLICITY IS CALCULATED, IN DIFFERENT MINDS, TO CREATE DIFFERENT IMPRESSIONS. AN ADVERTISER'S DUTY IS TO SATISFY. SOME WOULD BE SATISFIED WITH CERTIFICATE OF THE GREATEST CHEMIST IN THE WORLD, MR. WM. WEIGHTMAN, OF THE FIRM OF POWERS & WEIGHTMAN; OTHERS WITH DR. IS NO SECRET CONCOCTION OR PATENT MEDICINE. ITS EXACT MEDICAL PROPERTIES—TASTE, COLOR, ODOR, &c.—ARE LAID DOWN IN THE DISPENSATORY OF THE UNITED STATES. IT IS NOT NECESSARY FOR A MEDICAL MAN TO BE CONSULTED IN REFERENCE TO THE MATTER, AS ANY DRUGGIST OR PHYSICIAN KNOWS THAT IT IS FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU WITHOUT REGARD TO BOTTLE, LABEL OR WRAPPER, AS WELL AS THEY COULD TELL CASTOR-OIL OR PAREGORIC. SO CAN ANY ONE BY CALLING AT ANY DRUG STORE ANYWHERE AND ASKING FOR THE DISPENSATORY OF THE UNITED STATES, (ALL DRUGGISTS ARE IN POSSESSION OF IT,) AND COMPARING; OR BY CALLING AT MY DRUG-STORE, WILL TAKE GREAT PLEASURE IN GIVING FURTHER INFORMATION, EXHIBITING MEDICAL WORKS, THE MEDICINE, OR WHATEVER ELSE MAY BE DESIRED, WITH GREAT PLEASURE, FREE OF CHARGE AND MOST WILLINGLY.

PRUDES AND PICKWICKS THERE ARE!!

THERE ARE ALSO MEN WHO WILL STATE TO YOU "THAT THERE IS NO MERIT IN H. T. HELMBOLD." PERSONS WHO NEVER MAKE AN EFFORT FOR A LIVELIHOOD, AND WHOSE CASH IS SHORT, BUT WHOSE BLOOD OOZES OUT OF THEIR FINGER ENDS. MEN OF THIS ILK EXIST EVERYWHERE; THEY LIKE THE MEDICINE, "VERY WELL, YOU KNOW," AND USE IT, IN FACT ARE ITS STRONGEST ADVOCATES, FOR, IF THEY SPEAK TRULY, HOW COMES THE SUCCESS OF THE MAN. THE MAJORITY, HOWEVER, WOULD STATE THAT "THERE BEING MERIT IN THE MAN," "THERE MUST BE MERIT IN THE MEDICINE." DR. HELMBOLD'S DRUG-STORE IS CERTAINLY THE HANDSOMEST AND BEST-MANAGED IN THE WORLD. HE COMMENCED, WE UNDERSTAND, IN A SMALL WAY, AND WROTE HIS THESIS IN PHILADELPHIA COLLEGE OF PHARMACY, ON THE "PREPARATION OF FLUID EXTRACTS IN VACUO," BEFORE EVER THINKING OF ADVERTISING, AND WHILE ENGAGED IN THE DRUG BUSINESS.

THERE IS NOTHING SO RELIABLE AS THE EVIDENCE SET FORTH IN CONFIRMATION OF HIS STATEMENTS. THE DOCTOR HAS UPWARD OF 30,000 CERTIFICATES, THE EQUAL OF WHICH NO MEDICINAL PREPARATION OR MEDICAL MAN CAN PRODUCE. HE HAS, IN ADDITION TO THIS, THE PRIVILEGE OF REFERRING TO UPWARD OF 100 LEADING MERCHANTS, LAWYERS, BANKERS, AND PUBLISHERS IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK, BUT NOT TO ADVERTISE THEIR NAMES IN NEWSPAPERS, AS THEY HAVE BEEN OVERRUN WITH INVALIDS. THE CERTIFICATES INSERTED ARE FROM THOSE IN AND CONTIGUOUS TO THE CITY, AND FROM WELL-KNOWN AND WELL-INDORSED PERSONAGES. WRITE OR HAVE AN INTERVIEW WITH ANY OF THEM. THOSE GREATLY AFFLICTED CAN HAVE AT ANY TIME AN INTERVIEW WITH THE LEADING PERSONS IN THE CITY, BY CALLING IN PERSON AT H. T. HELMBOLD'S DRUG AND CHEMICAL WAREHOUSE, NO. 594 BROADWAY, WHERE THE NAMES AND RESIDENCES WILL BE GIVEN. IN FACT, NOTHING WILL BE LEFT UNDONE TO SATISFY THE AFFLICTED.

DR. H. T. HELMBOLD STATES THAT HE CAN CONVINCE ANY ONE; AND THAT THIS ARTICLE IS NOT INTENDED FOR THOSE POSSESSED OF EVERY KIND OF SENSE BUT "COMMON SENSE."

ALTHOUGH HAVING UPWARD OF THIRTY THOUSAND CERTIFICATES, I AM WILLING THAT THE FEW IN TODAY'S ISSUE SHALL DECIDE THE MATTER.

FIRST SPECIMEN.

A PERMANENT CURE OF GRAVEL OF TWELVE YEARS' STANDING—STONE PASSED AND TO BE SEEN.

BURNSIDE, Conn., Dec. 15, 1869.

Dr. HELMBOLD:

DEAR SIR: It is with much pleasure that I write you upon facts respecting myself. I do not know hardly how to express myself. I have been for the last ten or twelve years the greatest sufferer man could be and live; but more sometimes than others. The complaint was the "Kidneys" and "Bladder." I have been sometimes from twelve to fourteen hours, and wanted to make water every minute, but could not. Have consulted doctors, both in Massachusetts and this State, and taken pills, I may say by the quart, also liquored medicines, but found no relief from any, and got worse the last six months. I was so that I could scarcely get about. I could not rest night or day. It would soon have been "all up" with me if I had not seen your advertisement in the Berkshire Courier, headed "Kidneys." I read it through, and thought I would try it. I purchased a bottle, but, mind you, I had not much faith in it. Why should I, when I had been trying so many things and cost me so much? Well, I began taking it, and before I had taken the first bottle I felt bad; but I finished it and got another. By the time I took half of the second I still got worse, (apparently.) When I walked it seemed as if my right kidney was falling from its place, and I felt really bad. I felt so, before I had finished the second, that I made up my mind it was of no use trying any more—and all this time the "Buchu" was doing its work, but I did not know it, so I gave it up and went to Hartford on Saturday to one of the best doctors in the city. He said it was the neck of the bladder, and I should have to undergo an operation. He gave me medicine and I went home quite down-hearted. On Sunday I was unable to go to church. I had not taken any of his medicine, but on my return continued using the "Buchu," and in the afternoon I had a desire to make water, but could not. About an hour after this I tried again, with the same result; but the next time I took the vessel it was the same as turning a faucet and stopping it off again. It was so for three times, and the third time there was something came through the passage, and struck against the side of the vessel. I examined it, and it is the ugliest stone or gravel you ever saw, covered over with little pieces which collected together. It looks the color of a mud-turtle, and is as hard as flint. So you see the "Buchu" was doing its work, although I was feeling so badly. I procured another bottle, thinking there might be some more behind; but since that has passed, which is eight weeks ago last Sunday, I have been as well as ever I was in my life. I have the stone securely wrapped, and those who have seen it in this place are surprised. I cannot tell you all, but this is a true story of my case, and you are welcome to make such use of my name as you think proper. I am pretty well known in Berkshire; also in Connecticut. The advertisement saved me. Why not publish more? The Springfield Republican is a wide-spread paper. If any one wishes to see this wonder, they can do so. I could write all day but I think I have said enough this time; so I remain your ever well-wisher,

A CASE OF TWENTY YEARS' STANDING.

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., June 26, 1867.

H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist:

DEAR SIR: I have been a sufferer for upward of twenty years with gravel, bladder, and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medicinal preparations, and been under the treatment of the most eminent physicians, experiencing but little relief.

Having seen your preparation extensively advertised, I consulted my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu.

I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless, and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies hereafter unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of buchu, cubebs, and juniper berries, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination; and, with his advice, after an examination of the article, and consulting again with the druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced to use it about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room.

From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks was able to walk out. I felt much like writing to you a full statement of my case at the time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary, and therefore concluded to defer, and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing that it would be of greater value to you and more satisfactory to me.

I am now able to report that a cure is effected, after using the remedy for five months.

I have not used any now for three months, and feel as well in all respects as I ever did.

Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use on such occasions.

THIRD SPECIMEN.

FROM THE PRINCIPAL PHYSICIAN OF THE SANITARY INFIRMARY OF THE STATE OF LOUISIANA.

PARISH LA FOURCHE, La., April 23, 1870.

H. T. HELMBOLD, ESQ.:

DEAR SIR: I have in my practice used (in the majority of cases where diseases of the urinary organs existed) Helmbold's Extract of Buchu, and can confidently say that I have never known it to be used without the greatest beneficial results. I have consulted patients after partaking of it, and they invariably confirm my statement. I am satisfied that the preparation is an established fact, convincingly proved by the practical test of long experience.

Yours, respectfully,

JOHN B. C. GAZZO, M. D.

PERMANENT CURE OF DIABETES WITH FOUR BOTTLES.

HACKENSACK, Bergen Co., N. J., April 26, 1870.

Dr. H. T. HELMBOLD:

Dear Sir: I have been suffering for a long time from Diabetes, and had been under treatment for the same by (3) three of the most eminent physicians of this place, viz.: Drs. Hasbrook, Hall and Smith, without any apparent beneficial result. Having heard of your "Fluid Extract Buchu," I concluded to try it, although I had but little faith in its curative properties. I am happy to state that, after having taken four bottles of your "Buchu" I am entirely cured, and deem it but my duty to you and the community at large to inform you of the fact, and that I have been permanently cured by your medicine, after having been informed by the (3) three physicians above named that my disease was incurable. Truly yours,

JOHN H. WYGANT.

I respectfully refer to any citizen of Hackensack.

CURE OF BLADDER AND KIDNEY AFFECTION OF LONG STANDING—STONE PASSED AND TO BE SEEN.

Westport, Conn., Sept. 5, 1869.

H. T. HELMBOLD, ESQ.

DEAR SIR: I commenced taking your "Extract of Buchu" about two weeks since for an affection of the bladder and kidneys. I have suffered by spells very much for a few days past. But yesterday relief came through the effect of your "Buchu." A stone passed from my bladder about the size of a large pea, and I now feel perfectly well and entirely free from the pain that I have suffered with "so hard." I attribute my cure to your medicine entirely, and would recommend all persons similarly affected to try it. I have great faith in its curative powers.

Yours truly,

THOMAS J. BENNETT.

CURE OF KIDNEY AND BLADDER AFFECTION OF A PATIENT SEVENTY-EIGHT YEARS OF AGE.

THANKS TO MR. HELMBOLD.

GIRARD, Penn., March 21, 1869.

EDITOR COSMOPOLITE: I desire, as an unsolicited tribute to the merits of HELMBOLD'S BUCHU, and for the benefit of those similarly afflicted as myself, to say that, after consulting many eminent physicians, and trying nearly all the best advertised remedies, in the vain hope of finding relief from aggravated kidney and bladder diseases, from which I have suffered excessively for many years, good fortune finally suggested to me HELMBOLD'S BUCHU, which I commenced using with little faith, and no apparent beneficial result for about a month. At the expiration of that time, however, I thought I commenced to experience slight relief, which encouraged me to persevere in its use, and now, at the expiration of four months, although I am an infirm old man, nearly seventy-eight years of age, and consequently medicines cannot be expected to favorably affect me as they otherwise would, I have found such unspeakable relief and permanent benefit from Mr. Helmbold's valuable discovery, that I feel I ought to publicly record the fact, as an acknowledgment to him, and a valuable suggestion to the public.

Yours, respectfully,

D. M. LAREN.

SEVENTH SPECIMEN.

BED-WETTING IN CHILDREN.

NEW-YORK STATE VOLUNTEER INSTITUTE, CORNER OF 5TH-AV. AND 76TH-ST., CENTRAL PARK.

(A Home and School for the Sons of Deceased Soldiers.)

Dr. H. T. HELMBOLD: Two bottles only of the package of your valuable Buchu presented to the Institute have been used by the children, and with perfect success. In the case of our little Lieutenant A. J., his pride is no longer mortified, and he is free from the daily morning anathemas of the chamber-maid who has charge of his bedding. I feel that a knowledge of the result of our use of your Buchu with the children under our charge may save many a Superintendent and Matron of Boarding-schools and Asylums a great amount of annoyance; and many a poor child suffering more from weakness than from habit may be spared punishment, that is (not knowing it as a weakness instead of a bad habit) most unjustly inflicted upon them. Thanking you on behalf of the children, and hoping others may be alike benefited,

I am respectfully yours,

Col. YOUNG,
General Superintendent and Director.

JUNE 15, 1866.

EIGHTH SPECIMEN.

GREAT SUFFERING.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS WOULD BE GIVEN FOR A BOTTLE, IF NECESSARY.

RAHWAY, N. J., Dec. 2, 1869

H. T. HELMBOLD, ESQ.:

DEAR SIR: I take great pleasure in sending you a certificate in addition to the many you have received from suffering humanity. I can scarcely find language sufficiently strong to express my heartfelt gratification at the wonderful cure your Buchu has effected. For four years I have suffered beyond description. All my friends (with myself) came to the conclusion that my case was incurable. Accident placed your advertisement in my hands. I commenced taking your Buchu.

I followed the directions, and to my utter astonishment, before I had taken seven bottles of your valuable medicine—(I would give One Hundred Dollars a bottle if I could not get it at any other price)—am entirely cured. I most earnestly recommend it to all those suffering from disease. I have told many persons to take your valuable medicine, and they are doing so with great success. Any information my fellow-citizens may require will be freely given by the subscriber, at his residence, No. 78 Milton-av., Rahway, N. J.

H. M. FREEMAN,
Councilman Third Ward, City of Rahway.

RAHWAY, N. J., Dec. 2, 1869.

We, the undersigned, are well acquainted with H. M. Freeman, of Rahway, and know that he has been a long time suffering, in the worst possible form, for the past four years, and that he has been entirely cured by the use of Helmbold's Buchu.

J. W. SAVAGE, Ex-Mayor.
FRANK LA BAU, President of Council.
WM. RICHARDS, Clerk of Council.
PETER A. BANTA, Councilman.
W. J. BROWN, Councilman.
J. S. S. MELLICK, Councilman.
LEWIS HOFF, Councilman.
J. R. STRYKER, Merchant.

CITY HALL, MAYOR'S OFFICE, RAHWAY, N. J., Dec. 5, 1869.

This will certify that I am personally acquainted with H. M. Freeman, and am cognisant of the facts set forth in the above statement, and the several persons whose signatures are thereunto attached are all known to me.

JOHN F. WHITNEY,
Mayor of Rahway, N. J.

NINTH SPECIMEN.

UNITED STATES HOSPITAL.

SALISBURY, N. C., March 19, 1866.

H. T. HELMBOLD, Esq., Philadelphia, Penn.:

DEAR SIR: I wish you to send me one dozen of your Sarsaparilla's Extract, and half a dozen of your Rose Wash.

Allow me to say that your preparations are very satisfactory, not only to the practitioner, but also to the patient, and I shall endeavor to bring them to universal use in this part of the country.

Please forward these medicines again as before, C. O. D., per express.

I am, Sir, very respectfully yours, &c.,

M. F. A. HOFFMAN,
Surgeon in Charge of Hospital.

TENTH SPECIMEN.

CERTIFICATE OF A DISTINGUISHED MIDWIFE.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18, 1869.

Mr. HELMBOLD:

SIR: I have used your EXTRACT BUCHU with many of my patients and can speak of it in the highest terms in every case, and consider it a valuable remedy, and one that should be in the hands of every midwife.

Very truly yours,

REBECCA STANTON, M. D.

ELEVENTH SPECIMEN.

CURE OF NERVOUS PROSTRATION AND DECLINE OF A YOUNG LADY.

H. T. HELMBOLD:

I have been giving your EXTRACT BUCHU to my daughter, who has been unable to sleep, very nervous, loss of appetite, general debility, and rapid falling into decline—in fact, consumption was fastened on her. I was recommended to try your BUCHU by a highly respectable lady of this place, who had given it to her son with complete success. My daughter had been troubled for a long time. I purchased one bottle some eight weeks since, which lasted one week and from which she received great benefit, and induced me to purchase one half-dozen bottles, as I had tried many other remedies, and my family physician, to no avail. It is now more than two weeks since she has taken the last bottle, and I am happy to inform you of its complete success.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE M. MARSHALL.

GERMANTOWN, Penn., Feb. 12, 1870.

TWELFTH SPECIMEN.

SPEEDY RELIEF FROM KIDNEY AFFECTIONS OCCASIONED BY ACCIDENT.

NEW-YORK, Feb. 1, 1870.

Dr. H. T. HELMBOLD:

DEAR SIR: On the 22d of August last I received severe internal and external injuries, occasioned by an accident on a Philadelphia railroad car. On my arrival in New-York I was attended by Dr. WILSON, of East 55th-st., and another physician whose name I do not now remember. After my wounds were dressed, I suffered for three (3) days intense agony from internal injuries, which affected my kidneys. I can say that after taking but three doses of your EXTRACT BUCHU I felt greatly relieved. I used the balance of the bottle, and am happy to state that since that time I have experienced no further difficulty.

Very truly yours,

P. H. KEARNEY,
No. 848 3d-av.

Mr. Kearney respectfully refers to either of the following gentlemen:

HON. ROBERT B. ROOSEVELT, Esq., Editor of Citizen and Round Table.
B. F. CURTIS, Esq., No. 102 Greenwich-st.
MORRIS PHILLIPS, Esq., Editor of Home Journal.
HON. M. CONNOLLY, Register of City.
MESSRS. PETTENGILL & BATES, No. 37 Park-row.
HUDSON & MENET, No. 21 Park-row.
HON. NELSON J. WATERBURY, New-York.
HON. JAMES E. COULTER, New-York,

And many others if necessary.

THIRTEENTH SPECIMEN.

GREAT CURE OF DIABETES OF A LADY—FIFTY DOLLARS A BOTTLE.

NEW-YORK, Feb. 2, 1870.

Dear Dr. HELMBOLD:

DEAR SIR: For the past eight months I have been suffering from diabetes. I have consulted several of our leading physicians, but have failed to receive the slightest benefit from their costly medicines.

Four months ago I saw your advertisement in the Herald. I was persuaded by a friend who had been benefited by your world-renowned Buchu. I purchased a bottle, took the contents, and was so relieved that I continued the use of it. The diabetes has entirely disappeared after using it three months. I would give $50 a bottle if I could not get it at any other price.

I most earnestly recommend it to all those suffering from the disease.

Sincerely yours,

ANNA E. STOUGHTON,

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

At the Exchange, yesterday, Dec. 30, although no auction sales were advertised to take place, and the attendance was therefore limited, two legal sales were effected as follows:

JAMES M. MILLER, by order of the Supreme Court, in foreclosure, under the direction of D. P. INGRAHAM, JR., Esq., referee, disposed of a four-story brown-stone front house and lot, on the south side of Fourteenth-street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, for $20,000, the purchaser being Mr. D. H. OLMSTEAD. The lot is a good sized one, 24 by 103, and the property at the price may be considered a bargain.

The other sale of the day, also one in foreclosure, made by LAWRENCE, OAKLEY & FLEURY, under the direction of ALFRED T. ACKERT, Esq., as referee, comprised a plot of ground (two lots in all) located on the north side of One Hundred and Sixth-street, and running through to One Hundred and Seventh-street, between Ninth and Tenth avenues. The plot brought $4,500, and was bought by Mr. J. PANGBURN.

No sales are noticed for today, and on Monday (New-Year's) the Exchange will be closed. Next week, however, several quite important foreclosure sales are to take place, and as the Spring approaches there is every prospect that the market will improve. For the 18th of January a very important partition sale is advertised by MULLER, WILKINS & Co., at which a large number of City houses and lots will be disposed of. Other noticeable auction sales are also projected, of which due notice will be given, and should investors in property at all respond to the efforts of auctioneers to produce activity, real estate matters will soon present new features of interest.

First Mortgage Seven Per Cent Bonds.

REDEEMABLE 1900.

Interest payable 1st of January and 1st of July, in the City of New-York.

The mortgage is for $8,500,000 on a road 270 miles long, which has been in successful operation for many years. The lien is about $13,000 per mile, which makes it, with few exceptions, the smallest issued on any road in the United States. It was created for the sole purpose of paying off the debt due the State of Tennessee, amounting to $4,117,761 10. An examination into this security will prove it to be one of the best ever offered in this market.

OFFER FOR SALE THE SOUTH AND NORTH ALABAMA RAILROAD 8 PER CENT. FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, INTEREST AND PRINCIPAL IN GOLD, GUARANTEED BY STATE OF ALABAMA.

Length of road from Montgomery to Decatur, 183 miles; 107 miles completed; iron and ties for 15 additional, now on the ground, which will complete 122 miles, leaving but 61 to complete, upon which a large amount of work has been done. Land grant over 200,000 acres; local business good, and through connections unsurpassed.

Passenger and freight cars are now running over this road from Montgomery to Lime Kilns, which completes the AIR LINE to New-York and insures a business more than sufficient to meet the interest on all bonds issued.

The bond is three times secured.

First—By the mortgage on the land.

Second—By the guarantee of the State of Alabama.

Third—By the LARGE CAPITAL invested in the road.

Either of which is sufficient to secure the bonds. Price, 95 and accrued interest in currency, up to Jan. 6, after which date the bonds will be held at par.

For map, pamphlets, &c., apply to or address the Agents.

OFFER FOR SALE THE

FIRST MORTGAGE 7 PER CENT.

GOLD BONDS

OF THE

Evansville, Terre Haute and Chicago Railroad Company.

This road, fifty-five miles long, extends from Terre Haute northerly to Danville, Ill., forming part of the great through route from Chicago to Terre Haute, Evansville, Nashville, and the South. Twenty-five miles of the iron are now laid, and by the early part of January thirty-one miles will be in use for business.

The local subscriptions to the capital stock of the Company are $450,000

All of which is payable in cash as par; of this

$300,000 HAS BEEN PAID IN.

First Mortgage Bonds $750,000

This road is being built by Chauncey Rose, Esq., of Terre Haute, and his associates, who are the chief subscribers to the capital stock. The extraordinary success of the enterprises heretofore managed by these gentlemen, and the high prices of the securities based upon them, are evidences of what may be expected from this project. We recommend these bonds as an undoubted security.

Price, 90 cents and accrued interest, in currency. Commissions allowed bankers.

NOTICE TO TRAVELERS.

Families or gentlemen going to travel on the Continent of Europe, who can afford the expense of a courier, should never leave Paris without one; their services are invaluable in relieving the traveler from the multiplicity of cares and troubles respecting passports, examination and conveyance of luggage; in insuring the best accommodation, in protecting the traveler from imposition, and an infinity of annoyances to which they are exposed in various parts of the Continent. Competent and trustworthy couriers and traveling servants may always be obtained by applying to the COURIER SOCIETY, No. 3 Rue d'Alger, near the Tuileries Garden, Paris.

THE SIXPENNY SAVINGS BANK,

ASTOR-PLACE.

This old savings institution, the pioneer in the enterprise of taking SMALL DEPOSITS, calls the attention of PARENTS, HUSBANDS, RELATIVES and EMPLOYERS to the subject of HOLIDAY PRESENTS, and recommends the presentation of a BANK BOOK, with a suitable deposit, as a truly beneficial and acceptable CHRISTMAS or NEW-YEAR'S GIFT. There is no class of institutions so well calculated to benefit all classes of society in a pecuniary way as savings banks, and none that impart to the people such sound and practical ideas of individual industry and economy as the surest path to wealth and independence. Let every one have a savings bank book, man, woman and child. Let all know the value of keeping a bank account, so that they may see how much they earn, how much they spend year after year. A bank book will teach your wives and children how to manage their own affairs. These are lessons that are taught without cost by a savings bank; their moral and practical value is utmost incalculable. Let, therefore, all who have good and faithful servants, who have poor relatives, those who have children; let every man who has a wife whom he loves and respects, procure a bank book with a suitable deposit, as the most useful and beneficial Christmas or New-Year's gift.

BANK OPEN DAILY FROM 10 A. M. TO 3 P. M. Six per cent. interest, free of taxes. Deposits received from 5 cents to $5,000.

WM. MILES, President.

BUILDING IN NEW-YORK.

Official Figures of the Work of the Year —Character and Cost of the Improvements—Unsafe Structures.

Owing to the decision of Mayor HALL, by which no official reports will be made until June next of the work of the various City Departments for the year ending Dec. 31, 1870, the public, except for journalistic enterprise, would be kept in ignorance until that time in reference to the building improvements made and in progress in the Metropolis during the past twelve months. Through the courtesy of the Superintendent of the Building Department we are enabled to lay before the readers of the TIMES the record of the year's work, and the following are the official figures relating to both new and altered buildings in this City, with the list of unsafe buildings reported from Jan. 1, 1870, to the same date 1871:

NEW BUILDINGS.

Since the last annual report plans for new buildings to the number of 1,300 have been submitted at the Building Department. Of these plans 858 have been approved, 289 amended, and finally approved, and 69 rejected as not complying with the law. In the 1,147 plans passing the office, provision has been made for the erection of 2,389 buildings classified as following: Public buildings, 24; churches, 10; schools, 5; first-class dwellings, 731; second-class dwellings, 352; third-class dwellings and tenements, 690; first-class stores, 50; second-class stores, 25; third-class stores, 25; factories and workshops, 132, and stables, 115. In the above classification, stores and tenements are embraced under the head of third-class dwellings, while frame buildings are under the head of second-class. Nearly all the first-class dwellings are brown-stone fronts, a few only being of pressed brick or stone. The stores, particularly the first-class, are all either of stone or iron. The total estimated value of the buildings comprised in the above list is $31,731,348. In the report for 1869, the number of buildings that year was 2,348, valued at $39,351,088. The list for the past year, it will be observed, is not as large as for 1869, which fact also decreases the amount of money invested in the proposed enterprises. The comparative or relative cost of the projected structures is however about the same. Of the 2,189 buildings included in the plans referred to, the number actually commenced during the year, and now either finished or in progress, is 2,008.

ALTERATIONS IN BUILDINGS.

During the year 1870, plans for alterations in buildings, which are obliged by law also to pass the Department the same as plans for new buildings, have been submitted to Superintendent MACKENZIE to the number 1,161. Of these, 946 have been approved, 141 amended and afterward approved, and 74 rejected. The approved plans have provided for alterations in 1,282 buildings, and of the following description: Extensions, 478; raising, or additional stories, 628; internal alterations, 363; external, 728. In order to prevent misunderstanding in regard to these last figures, it may be stated that often two or more alterations are provided for in one plan. The alterations, as classified, are as follows: Public buildings, 36; churches, 5; schools, 3; first-class dwellings, 114; second-class dwellings, 588; third-class dwellings and tenement-houses, 216; first-class stores, 65; second-class stores, 82; third-class stores, 7; factories and shops, 117; stables, 49. The total cost of the above alterations is about $3,500,000, as against the same item for the previous year of $4,228,174, when the number of alterations in buildings was 1,325.

RECAPITULATION AND COMPARISON.

The following is, in brief, a recapitulation of the facts stated: 1870—Number of proposed new buildings, 2,189; value, $31,731,348; number of alterations, 1,282; value, $3,500,000; total expenditures, $35,231,348. 1869—Number of proposed buildings, 2,348; value, $39,331,088; number of alterations, 1,325; value, $4,228,174; total expenditures, $43,559,262. Decrease for 1870 in number of buildings, 159; in value, $7,599,640; in number of alterations, 43; value, $728,174. Decrease in total expenditure, $8,327,914.

UNSAFE BUILDINGS.

The total number of buildings reported as unsafe at the Department, for the year, is 515. Of this number, 49 have been taken down, and 307 made secure, leaving on the books at the close of the year but 8 in all unsafe. In reference to these, measures are being taken to prevent any accident. The total number of unsafe buildings reported since the organization of the Department in 1862, is 2,194, and of these only 9 now remain on record. In these cases, a legal difficulty exists, which prevents the Superintendent from promptly removing the structure, or in other ways rendering it unsafe. The above figures comprise the main features of general interest in regard to building in New-York for the year 1870, and can be relied on as officially correct.

Lecture on the Pilgrim Fathers by Prof. Balch—The Christian Churches Arraigned.

At the meeting of the Liberal Club last evening, Prof. CHARLES BALCH read a paper on "The Pilgrim Fathers." He maintained that the Pilgrim Fathers were Separatists, not Puritans; that they separated from the Church of England, while the Puritans adhered to it, although refusing many of its ceremonies, just as Bishop COLENSO does in our day. He held that the Pilgrim Fathers were not persecutors, on the contrary, they themselves were persecuted and driven out of England for their opposition to the Established Church. The charge of persecution against them was unreasonable and unhistorical. They were confounded with the Puritans of Boston and Salem, who were the real persecutors. The lecturer justified persecution such as that practiced by LUTHER and the Puritans, so long as those who persecuted believed they were doing good. He arraigned the Christian Churches of the present day as inconsistent in that they do not believe what they teach. He agreed with most advanced thinkers that for many ages we must submit to worship a power we know little of; that it is the wisest course to confess our ignorance and worship in silence. His religion was that of morality and duty. If we did not love our brother whom we see, how could we love God that we do not see?

Several members having addressed the meeting, the Club adjourned.

Crimes and Casualties.

An unknown man was run over and killed last evening by a Hudson River Railroad car, in Hudson-street, near Vestry. He was about thirty years of age, with black hair, full whiskers and gray eyes, and was dressed in brown overcoat, high black hat, dark vest, plaid trousers and gaiters. The remains were sent to the Morgue to await identification and inquest.

While Officer PITCAIRN, of the Fifteenth Precinct, was on post, yesterday, in Wooster-street, he heard a pistol-shot fired in the saloon No. 185, and immediately afterward a man ran out, pursued by another with a revolver in his hand. The policeman pursued the man with the revolver, who ran back into the saloon and escaped through a rear door. The names of the parties were not obtained, nor any further details of the affair.

The stable in the rear of No. 113 Clinton-street, occupied by JAMES BRUMMER, took fire last evening, and was damaged to the amount of $200, but is insured for $1,500 in the Stuyvesant. A horse valued at $500, belonging to FREDERICK RIDERHOOF, was burned to death, and FRANK GRABHAM, a German living at No. 113 Clinton-street, was severely burned in his efforts to save the animal.

A young man, named JEREMIAH SULLIVAN, a resident of Hunter's Point, was found frozen to death in the woods between Ravenswood and Dutch Kills, on Tuesday morning last. It is supposed that he had been indulging too freely in liquor on Christmas, and in his wanderings had been overcome with the cold and dropped asleep in the place where he was found.

Warrants have been issued for the arrest of Mrs. GEO. GRAEF and Mr. LATTING, the parties in the Newtown elopement case. Bills were made by the parties in nearly every store in the villages of Winfield and Newtown to the amount of several thousand dollars. The parties, it is supposed, have gone to Europe.

Christmas Gathering at Olivet Chapel.

The Young People's Association gave a Christmas greeting, last evening, to the members of the church and congregation of Olivet Chapel. Over 400 members availed themselves of the invitation, and enjoyed a very pleasant evening. The programme consisted of readings and recitations, which were rendered in a very effective manner, after which the company enjoyed a social meeting over tea, coffee, cakes, and a variety of confectionery and fruits. Mr. MINGINS, the Superintendent of City Missions, addressed the meeting, and the pastor, Rev. Mr. HUTCHINSON, was most active in catering to the wants of all present.

SUNDAY EDITION OF THE TIMES.

A CAPITAL PAPER ON NEW-YEAR'S DAY.

Choice Literary and Miscellaneous Readings, with All the News of the Day.

The SUNDAY EDITION of the NEW-YORK TIMES is one of the most popular of the Sunday papers published in the City, as it contains in addition to all the news, European war dispatches and reports and letters from its correspondents stationed in distant places, a great variety of literary and miscellaneous reading matter, specially prepared and collected for its columns.

Some of the features of the edition of to-morrow, the first day of the new year, will be—

A STORY, and extracts from the newest London and domestic magazines, literary papers, and books;—

An article on THEATRICAL BILL-POSTING; the earliest and the latest posters; the theatrical advertisement as an art in America; those who "bill the street;" cost of the work; some extraordinary posters; story of the adventures of a minstrel's poster;—

Another article on the celebration of NEW-YEAR'S DAY LONG AGO; ancient customs and ways; superstitions of our forefathers;—

An exceedingly interesting article on SOME OLD WILLS, giving extracts of quaint and musty documents of the pass two hundred and fifty years framed in New-York;—

Another on an ANCIENT HEBREW COLONY, being an account of a visit to a Jewish settlement on the Malabar coast of India; their traditions and customs; appearance of the people and the place; beauty of the women and children; the synagogues and sacred records;—

The usual quantity of NOTES AND COMMENTS, short paragraphs on queer subjects, discovered here and there in our domestic and foreign exchanges, specially prepared for the Sunday edition of the TIMES;—

EDITORIALS, ARTICLES AND NOTES on topics of the day, political, social and general;—

The MUSICAL and THEATRICAL NEWS and GOSSIP of the week, at home and abroad, with announcements of promised new attractions;—

Notes on the FINE ARTS; full REPORTS of LOCAL EVENTS OF INTEREST; NEWS of BROOKLYN, and the neighboring cities and towns of NEW-JERSEY;—

MILITARY NOTES; summaries of FOREIGN and RELIGIOUS news, &c., &c.

The Sunday edition of the TIMES has a large and steadily-increasing circulation. It goes among the best class of readers in the City and immediate neighborhood, including Brooklyn and the near cities and towns of New-Jersey, and is doubtless more thoroughly read than any other Sunday paper. It is, consequently, an excellent advertising medium, and is so regarded by many of the largest advertisers. Advertisements intended for insertion in this edition must be received in the TIMES Publication Office by 8½ this evening to insure proper classification.

NEW-YORK TIMES FOR EUROPE.

The EUROPEAN EDITION of the NEW-YORK TIMES is published THIS MORNING, and may be had at the counter of the publication office, in wrappers, ready for mailing. Price FIVE CENTS.

It will contain a full digest of Political, General and Local News up to the latest moment; a review of the Money and Produce Markets; all the Telegraphic News contained in the DAILY TIMES of this date; and such selections from the editorials and correspondence of the TIMES as may have interest for Americans residing abroad and for European subscribers.

The EUROPEAN EDITION of the TIMES will be found on file in the offices of all the leading bankers in Europe.

B. F. STEVENS, No. 7 Henrietta-street, Covent Garden, London, is agent for THE TIMES in Great Britian. He will receive subscriptions and advertisements, and supply copies of the papers to Americans temporarily in London.

Sooner or Later a Neglected Cold will develop a constant cough, shortness of breath, failing strength and wasting of flesh—the avant couriers of consumption. In some instances the same cause will produce bronchitis, a disease of the branches of the windpipe. In all affections of the pulmonary organs, as well as in bronchial complaints, JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT is both a palliative and a curative, as the testimony of thousands, and its world-wide reputation attests; while in coughs and colds it acts speedily, and when taken according to directions, promptly removes them. Why not give this standard remedy an immediate trial? Sold by all druggists.
